Catalog Description:

Overview of basic counseling concepts and skills, including skill development through role-playing and simulated counseling experiences.

Course Description:

This is an introductory course focusing on the clinical aspects in the practice of marriage, couple, and family therapy. The course provides a brief overview of family therapy and will concentrate on the experiential learning of basic family therapy skills. This class is designed to 1.) provide students with direct experiences of the family therapy milieu in the initial session/treatment alliance phase of therapy via observation and role play; 2.) assist in the development of a working knowledge of the clinical skills of family interviewing, joining, formulating problems, contracting for treatment, and presenting clinical cases; 3.) further the students' awareness of and appreciation for the multiple psychosocial factors which impact families in treatment; and 4.) contribute to the development of a personal conceptualization of the process of therapy. Ethical considerations/dilemmas will be explored. Issues of race, class, gender, sexual orientation, abilities, power, privilege, liberation, and oppression will be examined throughout each lesson.

The skills learned in this course are building blocks for developing beginning competency as a couple and family therapist. In the MCFT program at Lewis & Clark, competency is informed by the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy Core Competencies, the L&C MCFT program mission, and the Association for Marriage and Family Therapy Review Board knowledge, skills, and awareness domains. The final evaluation of clinical skills is reflected in the Supervisee Evaluation document that you and your supervisors will complete at the end of practicum and each semester of internship. Please review this document to better understand the competencies you are expected to demonstrate by graduation. The Supervisee Evaluation form can be found in the MCFT practicum and Internship Handbook and/or on line at:

http://www.lclark.edu/dept/cpsy/objects/MCFTSuperviseeEvaluationForm.pdf

Course Objectives

This course focuses on developing basic clinical skills in the following areas in preparation for supervised clinical practice coursework (practicum and internship):

- Develop and demonstrate an understanding of the communication process
- Understand and develop specific counseling skills
- Demonstrate intentional use of a repertoire of counseling skills
- Gain a basic understanding of the overall process of family therapy
- Engage in critical self-reflection
- Gain an increased awareness of how your personal style and implicit cultural assumptions influence your interpersonal interactions and professional identity
- Recognize and demonstrate ethical and developmentally appropriate professional demeanor in preparation for practicum/clinical work

Required Technology:

Flash drive

Flip camera (or other video recording device that can be downloaded to a flash drive and/or uploaded to Moodle). Flip cameras maybe borrowed from the Graduate School.

Additional Readings:

In an effort to keep the course contemporary and relevant, additional readings related diversity, ethics, social justice and family transitions will be provided throughout the course as topics and interests arise from role-plays, discussions, personal reflection at the discretion of the instructor. Students will also be required to research journals on special topics and discuss them in the class.

Methods of Instruction:

This course is taught using multiple formats including lecture, role-play, video, discussions, and PowerPoint. This class is highly interactive with students working in small groups in class each week.

Assignments & grading procedures:

Class participation and attendance: 20%

Practice Session Videotape Assignments: 40% (2 assignments)

 Weekly Logs:
 20%

 Master Tape & Transcription Analysis:
 20%

 Total: 100%

The grading system used by Lewis & Clark College will be used for final grades:

$$A = 93-100$$
  $A = 90-92$   $B = 88-89$   $B = 83-87$   $B = 80-82$   $C = 78-79$   $C = 73-77$   $C = 70-72$

A NO PASS grade will be given if:

- 1. You miss more than 2 class sessions or if you fail to make-up missed sessions.
- 2. You minimally participate in class discussions on a regular basis. You offer very little constructive feedback to other students in the class.
- 3. The transcription of your videotaped session is poorly done or not representative of micro skills in counseling. Your critical analysis is merely descriptive in nature rather than evaluative and does not demonstrate any real understanding of what you as a counselor did correctly, incorrectly, or could have done instead.
- 4. You receive too many scores of Barely Passing and not enough scores of Outstanding; they should average to adequate overall. You will also not receive credit for this requirement if you receive a score of unsatisfactory on any single item.

Late assignments & make-ups: Unexcused late assignments will incur a penalty of 10 points per day (including holidays, breaks and weekends). You are responsible for all assignments even when you do not attend class. There will be no make-ups for the missed videotape session unless arrangements are approved in advance.

Written submissions: All written work is to be typed, in 12-point size, in Times New Roman font, and double-spaced. Attention to writing style and expression is important. The ability to express yourself and think critically through writing is an important skill in your professional development. Thus, proof read your writing and maintain a coherent writing style.

COURSE ASSIGMENTS

Attendance, Participation, & Disposition (20%)

- Regular attendance and active participation is expected for all classes. Students should come to class on time, having carefully read materials and prepared for active, purposeful, involvement in class discussions/activities.
- Students who incur two or more absences will have their grade lowered and will be asked to repeat the course or will fail the course.
- Students are obligated to be available to your peer counselor. If you miss a practice session or class your counselor is left without a counselee. Thus, unless another student volunteers, your counselor misses an opportunity to practice skills.
- Active participation is required and is an additional way for the instructor to evaluate students' learning. Participation includes the following:
  - o Open discussion within the group regarding theory, content and process of the counseling sessions.
  - Disclosure of client issues for which you need assistance from the instructor and peers
  - o Facilitating the growth and development of self and others by providing and accepting regular constructive feedback.

Supervision is a critical tool for learning about how your qualities, style and skills may facilitate or impede therapeutic relationships. In order to facilitate growth in others, you must be able to accept constructive feedback about your own counseling skills. A lack of openness to receiving constructive feedback and responding accordingly in a professional manner will negatively impact your development as a family therapist and your grade for this course.

Practice Session Videotapes (40%)

- Counseling sessions will be recorded and viewed in class for feedback and evaluation. The objectives for each session will be based on the cumulative skills for each week. Students are expected to demonstrate an understanding of the assigned skill(s), practice and demonstrate the respective skill(s) on video.
- Openness to feedback from the instructor and other class members is pertinent to the development of micro skills in counseling.
- Students are expected to create and co-facilitate role-play exercises in groups or for the entire class.
- Feedback from supervisor should be demonstrated in the next tape.
- 10 points will be deducted for each session that you miss or you forget to bring your videotape.
- See below for details.

Weekly Logs and Self-Assessment Paper (20%)

- You will keep a written log of class related experiences with the focus on your self-awareness and growth as a counselor.
- Other homework assigned in class including assessment/reactions to your student generated role-play (counselor evaluation form), articles review and critique of master tape sessions (see attached). Guideline provided on Moodle.
- A 3-page Final Self-Assessment paper will be due at the end of the semester. This paper will serve as a global assessment of your skills and areas for growth. This will serve as a learning contract and will be placed in your permanent student file. Additional details will be provided during course.

Master Tape & Transcription Analysis (20%)

- A written critique of a transcription of a 15-minute of the videotaped interview, including a summary based upon an outline provided by the instructor (see attached).
- Full credit is received for a critical analysis of your counseling interview. You must provide alternative statements or behaviors that serve a possible improvement over what you originally said.
- You are evaluated on out ability to demonstrate an acceptable level of counseling skills presented in the course. The Student Outcomes and the Competencies to be Achieved evaluation forms will be used as assessment tools (see attached). The emphasis of this evaluation procedure will be on the actual demonstration of micro skills in counseling as well as self- evaluations and peer evaluations. This evaluation instrument contributes to determining your readiness to enter practicum and is placed in your permanent student file.
- You must demonstrate all skills at an adequate level. A score of Barely Passing on any item will only be acceptable if you receive scores of outstanding on other items. They should average to adequate overall. You will also not receive credit for this requirement if you receive a score of unsatisfactory on any single item.

PRACTICE SESSION VIDEOTAPES

Each student is asked to videotape two counseling session of at least 15 minutes in length. The student then is required to transcribe in typescript for at least 5-10 minutes of the session. Take the most interesting part of the session for you and make sure that you have at least eight therapist leads and statements. Transcribe both you and the clients.

The steps below are suggested for this examination of your interviewing or counseling style.

- 1. Plan to conduct an interview with members of your group (working with multiple people to simulate the family). This interview should last at least 15 minutes (although many prefer a longer time). At this time, we are interested in your natural style of helping before you are involved in too much training.
- 2. Be sure you have your role-played client's permission to record the session. If you are relaxed about taping, your client most likely to be comfortable as well. Your client should be free to say at any point that he or she does not want the tape used. Feel free to turn the video tape off in the middle of the interview.
- 3. Develop a 5-10 minute transcript of the session. See transcription format below. You will find that looking at your own natural style is extremely valuable.
- 4. Begin the presentation to us with a short one-page description of the client. Please indicate on this page that the client gave permission for you to use the material.
- 5. If you select five minutes from the middle or end, tell us briefly what happened before you actually show us the transcript.
- 6. Present the transcript as follows. Just classify the helper's lead (i.e., you (your name). If you use a skill we haven't covered, do your best to classify it.

Present a transcript of the interview using the following checklist:

- Provide a brief statement as to the age and nature of the client and her or his issue to be discussed
- Type your transcript, five minutes with at least eight counselor leads.
- Classify your leads. You will be able to identify listening skills but try to classify the other influencing skills you have used. Most important, of course, is noting and classifying your listening skills.
- Make comments on the interview leads
- Examine your transcript and evaluate your work. Most people only comment on weaknesses so be sure you note what you did right!

Transcription Format

1. Counselor Statement: Before we begin, as you know I'm a counselor in training. I'd like to ask if I can videotape our conversation today.

Client Reaction: It's okay with me.

Micro skill Used / Purpose: Closed-ended question asking for the client's informed consent to tape the session.

Additional Counseling Statement / Skill / Purpose: How would you feel about me taping our session today, because I'm a counselor in training? / Open-ended question / to illicit client's feelings.

2. Counselor Statement: Okay good. Well, what brings you here today?

Client Reaction: Well, I've been feeling sad.

Micro skill Used / Purpose: Open-ended question to illicit information from the client about his/her reason for seeking counseling.

Additional Counseling Statement / Skill / Purpose: How are you doing today? / Openended question / begin session.

3. Counselor Statement: You've been feeling lost?

Micro skill Used / Purpose: Encourager to get the client say more.

Additional Counseling Statement / Skill / Purpose: How have you been spending your time? Clarifying question to better understand why the client might be feeling lost.

Transference (unconscious reactions raised in the client by the counselor)/Countertransference Reactions (unconscious reactions raised in the counselor by the client): The client's sadness was triggering my own conflicts with sadness from losing people. Because I was so sad, I didn't know what to say, but I thought this intervention allowed him to openly talk about how he was feeling.

MASTER VIDEOTAPE ANALYSIS & FINAL ASSESSMENT PAPER

Students are required to complete a 15-minute videotaped session that simulates family therapy. The video should demonstrate the culmination of the skills learned in the class. In addition, the student is to write a final assessment paper that reviews and reflects on skill acquisition and the culmination of their role-play experiences. The contents of the master videotape analysis should follow the transcription format of the Practice Videotape Assignments I and II.

The final assessment paper is to include the following:

o Assessment of strengths and weakness of the session

- Reflection on the changes in your counseling style over the course of the semester including detailed exploration of what might account for differences in your:
  - counseling style, such as client's race, ethnicity, age, religion, gender, sexual orientation, and
  - content issues, such as, was the topic similar or dissimilar from your own life, did the topic hit your hot button, etc.
- o Review your readiness to move forward in the MCFT program
- o Plan for the development of therapeutic skills

Academic Honesty

Any deliberate borrowing of the ideas, terms, statements, or knowledge of others without clear specific acknowledgement of the source is intellectual theft and is called plagiarism. It is not plagiarism to borrow the ideas, terms, statements, or knowledge of others if the source is clearly and specifically acknowledged. Students who consult such critical material and wish to include some of the insights, terms or statements encountered must provide full citation in an appropriate form. Collaboration in studying and preparing for tests, papers and presentations is acceptable. However, all work submitted must be clearly reflective and distinctive of each individual's work. Plagiarism will result in a grade of zero (0%) on the assignment and a failing grade for the entire course. Further academic sanctions may also be taken

Non- Discrimination Policy

Lewis & Clark College adheres to a nondiscriminatory policy with respect to employment, enrollment, and program. The College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, sex, national origin, age, handicap or disability, sexual orientation, or marital status and has a firm commitment to promote the letter and spirit of all equal opportunity and civil rights laws.

Special Assistance

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability and/or you have emergency medical information to share please make an appointment with the instructor as soon as possible.

Student Conduct

Student conduct is viewed as a serious matter by the faculty members at Lewis & Clark College. The faculty members assume that all students will conduct themselves as mature citizens of the campus community and in a manner congruent with university policies and regulations.
