Course Description:

The internship experience is designed to provide students with the final year of training to obtain the EdS in School Psychology and/or eligibility for licensure in Oregon and national certification through the National Association of School Psychologists. Interns function as practicing school psychologists in a K-12 school environment, under the close supervision of licensed, experienced school psychologists on-site and on campus. Interns will provide school psychology services in consultation, counseling, assessment, intervention development, and program evaluation. Regular on-campus seminar meetings allow for group supervision and for instruction in a variety of current issues. Cultural diversity issues will be interwoven through professional case presentations. Legal, ethical, and professional standards will be addressed throughout the course. In addition, as the year progresses and interns near completion of their training, assistance in preparing for the job search process will be provided.

Requirements:

1. Students will complete a 1200-hour internship in the public schools. These 1200 hours will include at least 50 hours of preschool work, 100 hours at the elementary level, and 100 hours at the secondary level. Students must complete at least 100 hours of consultation and 50 hours of counseling. Assessment work is to be no less than 20% and no more than 40% of the internship experience.
2. Students will complete at least two hours of supervision with on-site supervisors weekly throughout the year and complete class time for group supervision with the Lewis and Clark supervisors as scheduled. This will allow ample opportunity to discuss the process of developing independent skills to become a school psychologist.
3. Students will complete all documentation as per the Internship Handbook; complete the coursework, complete graduation and licensure requirements as well as other assignments at the direction of the supervisor.
4. Interns will develop a professional portfolio for their own use to preserve work samples.
5. Interns will become familiar with school district, state, and national norms for assessment, consultation, and counseling.
6. Interns will complete reports of the students they assess; these reports must be reviewed and signed by site supervisors. These reports will include interventions that are guided by assessment results.
7. Interns will perform a formal consultation study, showing the results of their interventions on one individual or specific group.
8. Interns will participate in case presentations in our small group sessions, both formally and informally.
9. During small group campus supervision, interns will seek at least one group consultation each term.

The following NASP training domains will be addressed:

Domain 1: Data-Based Decision Making and Accountability
Domain 2: Consultation and Collaboration
Domain 3: Interventions and Instructional Support to Develop Academic Skills
Domain 4: Interventions and Mental Health Services to Develop Social and Life Skills
Domain 5: School-Wide Practices to Promote Learning

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability and/or you have emergency medical information to share please make an appointment with the instructor ASAP.

This course adheres to the general policies outlined in the catalog and student handbook of the Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling. This includes full adherence to the following policies.

- Nondiscrimination: go.lclark.edu/gsec-nondiscrimination;
- Standards for professional student conduct and academic integrity: go.lclark.edu/gsec-conduct;
- Sexual misconduct: go.lclark.edu/titleIX.

If you have any questions regarding these policies, please speak to your instructor for clarification.

If you have a disability that may impact your academic performance, you may request accommodations by submitting documentation to the Office of Student Accessibility in Albany Quadrangle (503-768-7192). After you have submitted documentation and filled out paperwork there for the current semester requesting accommodations, staff in that office will notify me of the accommodations for which you are eligible.

Course Structure:

The internship class is a year-long experience. The class consists of both on-campus, and web-based seminars. This term, class is offered on Friday afternoons in whole group, small group, and individual sections. Please see the semester calendar toward the end of this syllabus.

Class begins at 2:00pm. There will be certain days that I will be arriving between 2:30 and 3pm due to my work hours. If this is the case, there will be a task or assignment waiting for you during that time. It is expected that you will still be at class at 2:00pm on those days. The assignment will be emailed before 2:00pm on the day of class. Please be responsible for your learning and engage in the materials prior to my arrival.

After class, there will be opportunities for individual consultation with the college supervisor. Some Fridays that we don't have class, I will have scheduled office hours (2-4pm). Please use the zoom link or call me for any individual consultation needed. Interns will communicate with their Lewis and Clark campus supervisor and their site supervisor(s) a minimum of one time for individual supervision in the fall semester about the intern's performance. Thereafter, communication between intern, campus supervisor and site supervisor will be as needed to meet individual learning goals. To preserve the integrity of the small group supervision experience, 'section swapping' is discouraged. Individual needs will be considered by the instructors.

Grades:

Grades for SPSY 582 are offered in the Pass/No Pass format. Grades for Fall Semester are Deferred (DFD) until all internship requirements in this syllabus are satisfied. Once all requirements are satisfied, grades will be posted, typically grades for Fall and Spring semesters are posted simultaneously.

Professional Standards:

Interns are expected to follow professional standards, including adherence to legalities and ethics. In addition, interns need to show a respectful demeanor towards students, parents, professional peers, and others. Professional dress is expected.

Interns are expected to use appropriate professional tools, including technological tools, as needed and appropriate. Interns are expected to be aware of and respect diversity and multicultural issues.

The intern and campus supervisor will independently complete the Professional Standards Rubric (attached to this syllabus) and discuss the intern's readiness during the individual meetings in December and May.

Attendance:

Campus: Interns are expected to meet deadlines; they must honor class attendance and participation expectations. Department policy is that students may miss one class each semester, with appropriate make-up work, but if two classes are missed, the student is in danger of failing the class. If Interns miss or are tardy for class, their grade will be impacted and they need to discuss required make-up work with the campus supervisor. Interns with sites >100 miles from the campus will make individual arrangements with the campus supervisors regarding campus supervision.

Please email me prior to the start of class to let me know if you are planning to miss a class. We will set up an individual check in time (15-20 minutes) to connect when this happens.

School Site: Interns to notify their campus supervisor if they have missed 2 days in 2 weeks or 3 days in a month.

Supervisor Availability and Communication:

The easiest way to get in touch with me when something urgent occurs is to call me directly. I am available Monday through Friday from 8-6pm for phone calls. I do not check or respond to emails outside of those hours. If something comes up that is urgent outside of my work hours - please text me saying VERY URGENT and then give me a brief description of your need and a timeframe to reach back out. I will do my best to get back to you ASAP.

Colloquium:

The cross-cohort colloquium is a required feature of internship and outlined in a separate syllabus provided. Attending colloquium remotely (by Zoom) is an option for those whose sites are > 100 miles from campus. If you are unable to attend the Colloquium (either remotely or in-person) you will be required to submit an alternative assignment on an approved topic. Please see your section leader for details.

Coursework and Assignments:

- 1. Reports: Assessments/Interventions: Interns are expected to gain experience with a wide variety of students, ages 3–21, throughout the year. At a minimum, interns will complete three full assessments (one in the fall, two in the spring) and will follow most of these cases from the time of the initial referral through intervention (or IEP) to progress monitoring. These three assessment/intervention reports and appropriate rewrites will be reviewed and “marked” by the LC campus supervisor. Please note that ALL reports generated by interns over the course of the internship will be reviewed, edited and co-signed by the primary on-site supervisors.

Interns should seek to assess children with a variety of possible disabilities, including Specific Learning Disabilities, Intellectual Disability and Emotional Disabilities. In addition, interns should look for opportunities to assess children who may be being evaluated as Gifted, having Autism, Other Health Impaired, or Traumatic Brain Injury. All student identifying information must be removed from the final reports you give your Lewis and Clark supervisor. The final report must be for a student who qualified as a student with a Specific Learning Disability. Feel free to discuss options for your final report if you have other ideas for your final report.

Interns assess their own work by completing the appropriate CCE rubric from the internship handbook and by submitting to the campus supervisor with the written report. The campus supervisor will also use the rubric in the Intern Handbook.

2. Consultation Assignments:

Academic Efficacy Project & Report on Effects on Student Learning: A written report consisting of at least 5–10 pages is required. Please do not write more than 10 pages (not including Appendix). The intern provides consultative services for a selected student. Direct services are generally provided by the intern. The candidate works with the student and related adults through the year and writes the results of the project, including a statement of efficacy of the student’s learning and/or environmental process. Data collection and display are required. Assignments are scored using the Rubric in the Intern Handbook (please review this document for more detailed report requirements).

Behavior Efficacy Project & Report: A written report consisting of at least 5–10 pages is required. Please do not write more than 10 pages (not including Appendix). The intern provides consultative services for a selected student in the area of behavior. Direct services may be provided by the intern. The candidate works with the student and related adults through the year and writes the results of the project, including a statement of efficacy of the student’s learning and/or environmental process. Data collection and display are required. Assignments are scored using the Behavior Consultation Rubric in the Intern Handbook (please review this document for more detailed report requirements).

Function Based Assessment & Behavior Support Plan with Behavior Goals: This typically takes the form of a function-based assessment with a Behavior Support Plan, which must include two IEP behavior goals. The FBA assignment is scored using a variation of the behavior consultation rubric. A self assessment is not necessary for this assignment.

3. Presentations:

Informal Presentations: Each week, during group supervision, interns are expected to come prepared to informally present information on cases (response to interventions, counseling, assessment, and consultation) on which they are working. The purpose of these informal presentations is to receive feedback and support from the cohort and college supervisor. When possible, the small group will run a process similar to Child Study Team (CST) or Student Study Team (SST) as a way to consult on cases. To obtain the best possible guidance from your supervision group, please bring copies of any tools (observation forms, assessments, etc.) that have been conducted.

Formal Case Presentations: This presentation will be presented during our small group sessions. At least one formal case presentation will be required during the fall and spring semesters. Specific dates will be determined for the presentations. Please limit presentations to 10-15 minutes in order for the group to have time to ask questions. These presentations could include:

- One formal presentation of an assessment/intervention case. It consists of pertinent information from the written report.
- Presentations of a consultation/efficacy case completed during the year. When you present, please make sure you have loaded documents for our review into the shared google folder so we can access them during small group supervision (observation forms, assessment information, etc.) that you used in your assessment or consultation.

4. Site Supervision, Log of Activities and Hours:

*Interns must document (in hard copy) that they have met, at minimum, the following hour requirements:

- 1200 hours of internship related activities
- 100 hours in an elementary setting; 100 hours in a secondary setting; 50 hours in a preschool setting; settings are those defined by your school district
- 100 hours of consultation; 50 hours of counseling
- 100 hours with “regular” education students

*Please ask supervisor for a Spreadsheet to help track hours if needed.

Two hours a week of individual on-site field supervision, at least one of which must be with your primary on-site supervisor and consists of regularly scheduled, dedicated time to supervision. The second hour may be with your primary or secondary on-site supervisors. Ideally, this requirement is not met in informal, brief supervisory communications and is expected to be un-interrupted by phone calls or other activities of the supervisor or intern. These meetings are expected to be scheduled regularly on a weekly basis. If one of you must miss the meeting due to illness or other crisis, the meeting must be rescheduled during the week.

*Preschool Hours: The spirit of the preschool experience is for interns to get practice with students who are in early childhood programs (ECSE) transitioning to school age programs. These hours are typically gathered in the spring. Technically, you may log time spent working on kinder cases as preschool hours. That said, please consult with your campus supervisor if you feel you are unable to have access to ECSE students.

Logging Requirements:

Document everything you do on the job and who you are working with including students, teachers, parents, school staff, outside agencies, etc. This would include anything you do for your job including consultation, counseling, assessments, class work, supervision, emailing, researching topics, review of records, and so forth. Additional guidelines for coding your hours will be provided in class. In addition, a final one-page summary of your hours is required at the end of the fall semester and at the end of the program. (See SP Internship Form 4.) Please note, falsification of any information, data, or citation as part of an academic exercise is a violation of the Lewis & Clark College Academic Integrity Policy. For complete details, please refer to the “Academic Performance and Professional Conduct Policies of the graduate school catalog.

Comprehensive Examination:

Interns must complete Praxis II. This will fulfill the requirements of the comprehensive examination. The exam must be completed by April 1, 2023. When you take the Praxis II, you must have ETS send results directly to Lewis & Clark, TSPC, and NASP. Failure to have scores submitted directly to Lewis and Clark will result in delayed graduation and licensure. Please submit a copy (or screenshot) of your passing scores to the instructor.

Observations:

Observations are required by TSPC. Each student needs two observations completed by their site supervisor and two by their university supervisor (fall & spring). These observations may be recorded and sent to your campus supervisor. I will have a date in the fall and spring available to schedule in person observations. Observations such as facilitating a meeting, assessing a student, and/or conducting a group or counseling session are recommended.

Fall Calendar  This class is dynamic and there are many changes made to meet the needs of the class. Highlighted items subject to change.

Spring & Summer Calendar 2023. This class is dynamic and there are many changes made to meet the needs of the class. Please consult the google doc version of the calendar for the most up-to-date information this calendar is provided as a guideline only. The instructor reserves the right to change the calendar based on the needs of the class.
