Indigenous Land Acknowledgement

Lewis & Clark College purposefully reflects on the history of the land it occupies. Prior to the newcomers arriving in this area, the indigenous land of what would later be called Multnomah County was home to many tribal people. We honor the indigenous people on whose traditional and ancestral homelands we stand: the Multnomah, Kathlamet, Clackamas, Tumwater, and Watalala bands of the Chinook; the Tualatin Kalapuya; and many other indigenous nations of the Columbia River.

It is important to acknowledge the ancestors of this place and recognize that we are here because of the sacrifices forced upon them. In remembering these communities, we honor their legacy, their lives, and their descendants.

Welcome

Welcome to the second Part-Time Cohort (PTC) for Elementary--Multiple Subjects Preservice Program at Lewis & Clark College. You are joining a program which has a long-standing reputation for preparing high quality elementary teachers and has recently expanded access by opening a pathway for classified school district employees to become teachers. Individuals like yourself have proven success working with children, and we are pleased to help you take the first step into a new phase of your career as a licensed teacher. Congratulations and welcome to an incredibly demanding and immensely rewarding journey!

You have been chosen to enter the program at Lewis & Clark based on your academic background; the passion expressed in the essays you wrote; the way you presented yourself during our interview process; and most importantly, the support of your district. Like your employer, we believe you are a promising teacher candidate, and we will invest in your success. We ask that you commit to engaging fully with your heart, your mind, and your actions in every opportunity this program provides.

Through challenging courses, meaningful assignments, engaging discussions, and practicum placements in a school associated with your current job duties, we will prepare you to be a transformative educator who is dedicated to promoting democratic school reform and social justice in a diverse and multicultural society. Over the course of this two-year experience, you will develop new skills as a thoughtful decision-maker and innovative leader. You will have the opportunity to draw upon the resources of an outstanding faculty, your highly capable peers, and the experienced educators in your district.

This journey will also provide you with extensive opportunities to observe a wide range of teachers and to practice teaching in one or more classrooms in your school. You will be encouraged to develop strategies as a lifelong learner through your coursework and your practicum experience. The Lewis & Clark program will both challenge and enrich you as you work toward the goal of becoming an excellent teacher.

Our best advice as you begin this program with us is three-fold: (1) Be fully present each day whether in your classroom or on campus; (2) embrace the many challenges that will arise; (3) nurture strong and enduring relationships with your fellow students, the faculty at Lewis & Clark, with your school colleagues, and your students.

Welcome to the start of an exciting journey.

About the Graduate School

The graduate school's dedicated faculty and mission-driven programs prepare students for careers that can transform lives, sustain communities, and help lead to a more just society. Collectively we are agents of change, committed to serving others.

The Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling offers graduate degree, licensure, certificate, and additional endorsement programs for prospective and for practicing teachers, Pre-K-12 education leaders, school counselors, school psychologists, student affairs professionals in higher education, addiction counselors, licensed professional counselors, marriage, couple, and family therapists, and art therapists. Our students are diverse in age, culture, income, sexual orientation/gender identity, prior experience, and educational background. To meet our students' needs, classes are offered days, evenings, and weekends and are located on campus, off campus, and at work sites.

The graduate school is committed to serving every student by providing a learning environment built around the values and practices associated with critical thinking, individual growth, and social justice. Our programs combine rigorous academic work with challenging field-based experiences; students spend nearly 200,000 hours working in schools and mental health agencies each year, beginning in their first semester of study. The curriculum reflects the theories, techniques, research, modes of application, and contemporary reform movements within each professional field. Our graduates are change agents who transform society through education and counseling.

Vision and Mission

All Graduate School programs operate within and in support of our common Vision and Mission:

Vision

We join with students to learn, to serve, and to lead through deep engagement with the self and the world. Together we reach for wisdom, justice, compassion, and bold ideas in education and counseling.

Mission

The Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling is a community that values the rich diversity of voices and perspectives in a complex world. We reach out to those around us, explore new ideas, and pursue the best practice of education and counseling. We promote open dialogue, inquiry, respect, and social action to enhance the learning of adults and children.

Graduate School Policies and Procedures

The Navigator is the official student handbook of the Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling. In this handbook you will find information about the academic, registration, and college- wide policies and procedures that guide life on campus, as well as information about the graduate school generally, and resources and tools for planning your course of study. Candidates should read this document carefully because they are responsible for abiding by the policies and procedures outlined there. The Navigator, together with the graduate school's catalog, will be helpful throughout the experience at Lewis & Clark. Candidates should be sure to read the Statement of Student Responsibilities.

The catalog includes academic policies, including: Academic Integrity, Academic Integrity in Practice, Student Conduct, Academic Performance, and Appeal Guidelines

The Navigator and catalog also contain college-wide policies that set out student rights such as access to disability services, as well as responsibilities such as refraining from using hate speech. These documents explain in detail essential policies and procedures associated with discrimination and harassment, sexual conduct, and hate and bias motivated incidents. Every student is expected to know and comply with academic and campus rules established in the catalog. A student who is uncertain about the application of the rules to their circumstances has the responsibility to seek clarification from the dean to ensure proper compliance.

Standards for Professional Conduct

Lewis & Clark candidates must adhere to the Student Professional Conduct policy of the graduate school. It is each candidate's responsibility to read and follow the guidelines found there: http://docs.lclark.edu/graduate/policyprocedures/academic/

In addition, candidates must adhere to the ethical, legal, and professional responsibilities identified by Oregon law and TSPC guidelines found here:

https://sos.oregon.gov/archives/Pages/oregon_administrative_rules.aspx

Satisfactory Academic Progress

According to GSEC policy, students enrolled in programs (degree, licensure, endorsement, certificate) must maintain a B average (3.0). Any student receiving a course grade lower than C-, a course grade of NC (no credit), or two course grades lower than B- will not be considered to be making satisfactory progress. Students who do not meet the standards for satisfactory academic progress will be immediately withdrawn from their programs and notified of this action.

The grade of B- is the lowest grade that carries graduate credit. Courses receiving grades lower than B- will not carry graduate credit, but will be included in the student's cumulative G.P.A. A student receiving a grade below B- in a required course must repeat the course and earn a passing grade. A student receiving a grade below B- in an elective course must repeat that course, or choose another elective, and earn a passing grade. Failing to earn a grade of B- or above in a required or elective course may impede a student's ability to move forward in other courses or experiences required for program completion.

Student Services and Resources

Office of Student Accessibility

Lewis & Clark College is committed to serving the needs of our students with disabilities. Ensuring equal access for all students is a collaborative effort between the Office of Student Accessibility, students, and faculty. All participants have a role in making education accessible. Understanding your rights and responsibilities is essential to the process of accommodation.

Writing Support

Many faculty members will be happy to provide support for the writing assignments in their individual classes. However, students looking for additional support may contact: John Holzwarth, Director of the CAS Writing Center at holzwrth@lclark.edu or 503-768-7503.

Liability Policy Regarding Practicum and Field Experience

All students registered in the college are covered by the college's liability policy during practicum or field activities that are required by the college as part of their academic program. This liability policy only covers third party actions against the individual and/or the college arising from incidents during the teacher candidate's supervised practicum in the school. Injuries to student teachers or teacher candidates themselves are not covered by this policy.

Transportation

With regard to personal vehicle use, Lewis & Clark College does not provide insurance coverage. Students who transport other students in a personal vehicle, to or from off-campus sites, related to required practicum or field assignments, are required to have valid insurance coverage.

Medical Coverage

Complete information on the medical plan available to Lewis & Clark students and enrollment can be found at the following: https://www.lclark.edu/offices/health service/insurance/

Annual Graduate School Events

Convocation

The Graduate School's Convocation brings together students and faculty from education and counseling psychology professions in an interdisciplinary exploration of fundamental issues affecting personal development and professional life. Convocation focuses on the role that creativity, compassion, and commitment play in the professional lives of educators and counselors and provides an opportunity for students to learn more about the graduate school. Attendance at Convocation, held annually near the start of the academic year, is required for all students enrolled in MAT programs. There is no tuition charged for this experience, but all students will be required to register through WebAdvisor and attend the event.

Commencement

The Graduate School holds one Commencement ceremony annually on the first Sunday in June. You will receive information about filing your degree application in the spring semester during your Seminar class. Information about Commencement, including when and how to order regalia (required for candidates planning to participate in the ceremony), and information about the schedule for the event, can be found here: https://graduate.lclark.edu/commencement/.

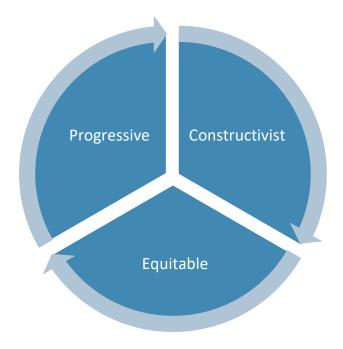

About the Elementary--Multiple Subjects Program

Program Philosophy

The Elementary--Multiple Subjects (ELEM) program provides teacher candidates with an educational experience that prepares them to meet the complex challenges of professional life in a diverse and changing society. Our program prepares candidates to integrate strong knowledge of subject matter, extensive understanding of pedagogy, and passion for the well-being of all children into their professional practice. Our goal is to produce graduates who distinguish themselves as exceptionally caring, competent, and qualified teachers. To accomplish these ends, the faculty operates from a set of common beliefs.

- Progressive: Humans are social beings who learn best alongside other people while engaged in real-life activities. These learning conditions promote the development of practical knowledge and problem-solving skills. The progressive education ideal applies to both the experience of candidates in our program and to the children they will teach.
- Constructivist: Education must engage students in constructing important knowledge and deriving concepts for themselves. The teacher's goal is to guide students as they fit new information together with what they already know. To this end, teachers must make content and strategies accessible to all students through the use of a wide range of instructional practices that are deliberately scaffolded to ensure access for each student.
- Equitable: Teachers who make a difference create civil and inclusive school communities where children are respected, valued, and welcomed. Promoting equity requires teachers to courageously address difficult social issues that arise in the classroom, the school, and the community. Over the course of their careers, social justice educators improve schools, educational systems, and the profession by fostering multicultural understanding, implementing culturally responsive teaching practices, advocating for social justice, and challenging prejudice and discrimination.

MAT Program Structure for PTC

Students in the part-time cohort (PTC) complete the MAT degree and licensure requirements over a two-year sequence that combines on-campus classes and distance learning classes along with a robust practicum experience. This program variation is designed to expand access to Lewis & Clark's Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) program to classified employees working in school districts. It opens a pathway for individuals with proven success working with children to become teachers. Admission into this cohort requires admission to the Graduate School along with approval from the school district employer. Implementation of this program follows the guidelines described in this handbook as well as memoranda of understanding with some districts.

Teaching Standards

Oregon Administrative Rules

The ELEM program uses two primary sources to guide and assess candidate preparation for teaching. The first is the set of standards for teaching established by the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) in the Oregon Administrative Rules (OARs). The complete list of OARs pertaining to the ELEM program can be found on the TSPC website: https://sos.oregon.gov/archives/Pages/oregon_administrative_rules.aspx

CAEP K-6 Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards

The ELEM program to define teaching proficiency through ratings on the K-6 Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards published by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP). These standards outline what teachers graduating from a K-6 Elementary educator preparation program should know and be able to do by the end of their preparation program and to ensure that each student learns and develops to their fullest potential. There are five CAEP standards comprised of 23 components that represent competence expected of candidates who have completed their initial teacher licensure program and are prepared to begin professional practice as K-6 Elementary teachers. The rubric for these standards can be found on pages 35-46 in this Handbook.

Candidates in the PTC receive feedback on their progress in many of the CAEP standards in each formal supervisor report. At the third triad meeting, a formative rating is determined by the candidate, mentor, and supervisor for all of the standards. The formative CAEP triad meeting also includes goal-setting in preparation for solo. At the final triad meeting following completion of solo, the mentor and supervisor assign summative ratings on all elements of the CAEP rubric.

Performance Assessment Required for Licensure: edTPA

All teacher candidates seeking licensure in the state of Oregon are required to pass a performance assessment, the edTPA, as a part of the licensure process. The Elementary Education edTPA requires teacher candidates to complete four tasks; three of these tasks relate to literacy instruction and the fourth is related to mathematics.

Task 1: Planning for Literacy Instruction and Assessment

Task 2: Instructing and Engaging Students in Literacy Learning

Task 3: Assessing Students' Literacy Learning

Task 4: Assessing Students' Mathematics Learning

The sequence of three literacy tasks involves candidates documenting a cycle of teaching including planning, teaching, and assessing a learning segment of 3-5 lessons. They submit authentic artifacts including lesson plans, assessment tools and results, classroom video recordings of the learning segment, and commentaries that provide a rationale to support their instructional choices and practices based on the learning strengths and needs of students. The focus is on analyzing their teaching and their students' learning, with attention to students' academic language development and use.

The mathematics task focuses on analysis of student learning. It requires candidates to analyze student work to identify a targeted learning objective/goal and plan and teach a re-engagement lesson focused on students' needs. The math task does not include video recordings, but it does require the submission of artifacts such as a formative assessment tool, evaluation criteria, assessment results, samples of student work, and a written commentary.

Candidates' edTPA submissions are externally evaluated and scored.

- Any candidate whose edTPA score does not meet the program's minimum score (50) will be required to meet with program faculty to review deficiencies and potentially revise portions of the assessment.
- Any candidate whose edTPA score does not meet the passing score determined by the state of Oregon (42) will be required to resubmit one or more tasks for external scoring in order to meet the overall passing score.

In the ELEM program, candidates will complete practice edTPA experiences in the fall supported with course assignments. In the spring they will complete and submit their final edTPA.

The start of the solo teaching experience is contingent on submission of the edTPA.

Because the edTPA is an assessment of candidate performance, mentors play a limited supporting role. Specifically, mentors are expected to assist in four important ways:

- (1) facilitate the distribution and collection of video permission forms to families;
- (2) assist the candidate in choosing appropriate lessons for the purpose of edTPA;
- (3) be flexible with scheduling during the edTPA focus weeks;
- (4) serve as videographer during the recorded lessons.

edTPA Timeline for PTC

Because the edTPA involves planning, teaching, and assessing in the classroom, there are periods of time requiring the mentor teacher's cooperation. Lewis & Clark supports candidates' success on the edTPA with a low-stakes practice experience in literacy and math in ED 511 and MATH 568 prior to the submitted high-stakes assessment (Fall of Year 2).

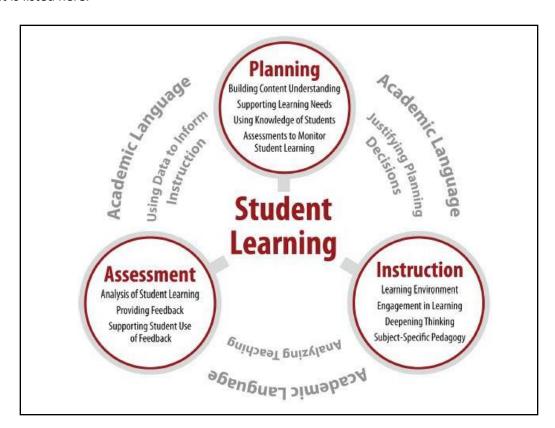

ED 511: PRACTICE edTPA

- During fall term of the literacy-emphasis year: Teach and assess two consecutive literacy lessons. Video recording required.
- During fall term of the math-emphasis year: Collect math assessment data for two days of instruction. Teach a re-engagement lesson. Reassess students. No video required.

December final year: OFFICIAL edTPA

- Regardless of content emphasis sequence, all PTC students will complete and submit the official edTPA for scoring in December of their second year. This includes the following two classroom tasks:
 - ☐ Collect math assessment data for a three-day learning segment. Teach a re-engagement lesson. Reassess students. No video required.
 - Teach and assess three consecutive literacy lessons. Video recording required.

Additional information about edTPA will be distributed in ED 511, MATH 568, and in Seminar. Candidates and mentors are expected to heed any updated timeline information if it conflicts with what is listed here.

What Candidates Need to Know

PTC Coursework

Program completion is achieved through seven semesters of coursework and practicum totaling 40 semester hours. The course sequence is designed to include a literacy-emphasis year and a mathemphasis year which can be completed in either order. Students entering the program in even-numbered years complete the literacy coursework in the first year and math coursework in the second year as shown below. By design, students in their first year of the program are in classes with students in the second year of their program creating opportunities for collaboration, problem solving, and camaraderie. The complete list of courses by term can be found on pg 47.

Students entering the program in odd-numbered years complete the mathematics coursework in the first year and literacy coursework in the second year as shown below.

Typical Class Schedule

The precise schedule for each term will be made available several months prior to the start of each term. The program aims to keep the schedule as regular as possible, but conflicts related to holidays, instructor availability, and other unforeseeable events may require adaptations. A typical schedule in fall and spring includes the following combination of class meetings:

Monday evenings (5:30-8:30)	Wednesday evenings (5:30-8:30)	Saturday mornings (8:30-12:30)
You will have an online evening	You will have an online evening	You will have in-person classes class every Monday.	class on many Wednesdays.	on four Saturdays each term.

Summer term classes are offered in person on the LC campus. Many of these classes are combined with students enrolled in the full-time cohort (FTC) to enhance the experience of both groups of students by providing both groups of students with a range of perspectives and experiences relative to particular coursework and schooling in general.

PTC Practicum

The practicum experience is integral to preparing PTC candidates for licensure. During the practicum, candidates are expected to practice and demonstrate proficiency in all five of the CAEP Rubric domains (see pgs 35 - 46). In this section we describe the structure and expectations unique to the PTC practicum along with guidelines and benchmarks for successful progress across the four practicum terms.

Over the course of the two-year program, students in the part-time cohort must accrue at least 640 hours of supervised teaching in an elementary classroom combined with additional practicum experiences that occur through job-embedded duties.

- Supervised teaching (Sept 2023-March 2025)—Lewis & Clark will collaborate with the building administrator and HR staff to find a mentor teacher in the school where the candidate works. To fulfill the practicum requirement, the candidate will be released from job duties to participate in the mentor's classroom approximately six hours per week (either one day a week or 75-90 min per day). During the literacy-emphasis year, as many hours as possible should be spent in the mentor's classroom during literacy instruction. During the mathemphasis year, priority should be given to math instructional time.
- Full time student teaching (mid-April-May 2025)—For a six-week interval near the end of year 2, candidates will take a six-week leave of absence from their job duties in in order to complete a solo teaching experience. More information about the expectations for solo can be found on pg 22.
- Additional practicum experiences—Candidates will document a variety of qualifying teachingrelated tasks they complete during the course of their regular work duties through assignments in Seminar classes.

Support in the Field

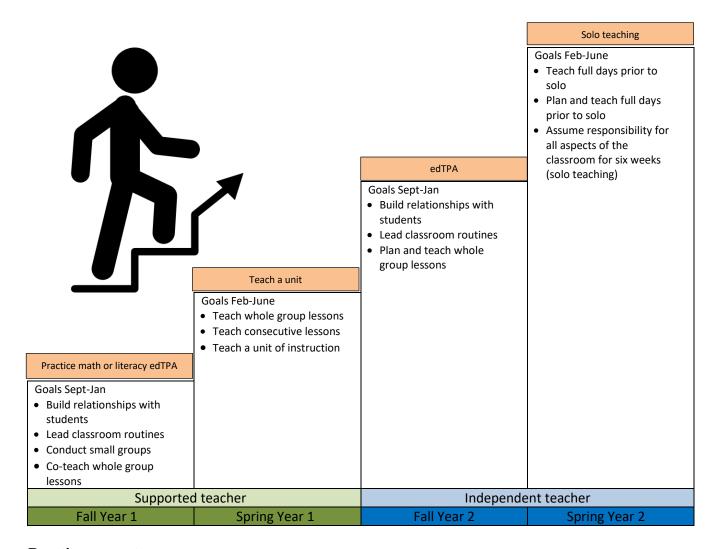

The ELEM program provides several interconnected layers of support for candidates and mentors as they progress through the program. Our system works best when the lines of communication between all of these groups are strong.

The level of field support provided by each of the roles below will be differentiated. Partnerships that are struggling or are facing extra challenges will receive additional visits and more individual attention.

- 1. Supervisor: Each candidate is assigned a Lewis & Clark supervisor who is an experienced elementary teacher or administrator who is not currently in the classroom. Many of our supervisors are retired educators who bring a wealth of experience to their work. The supervisor will visit each candidate in their classroom at least seven times during the year. If candidates find themselves struggling in the classroom, the supervisor is a primary source of support.
- 2. Clinical Coordinator: The clinical coordinator supports candidates in their field placement sites. The clinical coordinator visits each candidate at least twice each year to observe performance and provide support as needed. In addition, the clinical coordinator serves as the primary point of contact with mentors and supervisors.
- 3. Program Director: The program director is available to answer programmatic questions related to coursework, practicum, edTPA, and licensure. The program director also serves as a field observer and can be called upon to assist when a candidate is struggling.

Practicum Trajectory

The practicum experience is designed to gradually increase in intensity across the four terms and ensure the candidate is prepared for solo teaching. The visual below depicts this progression, and the calendar/checklist pages (17 - 21) provide a way to monitor progress on these goals.

Practicum capstones

Progress toward meeting licensure requirements will be measured by the completion of a capstone experience at the end of each practicum term. Each of these capstone experiences (except edTPA) includes a formal observation by the supervisor and is the focus of a triad meeting (mentor-candidate-supervisor) at the end of each term.

numbered years, Task 4	literacy)		designed in spring term
in odd-numbered years)			coursework (math or literacy)

Practicum logs and evidence of progress

Candidates, mentors, supervisors, and LC faculty share the responsibility to ensure progress toward successful practicum completion as evidenced by ratings of level 2 or above on all CAEP criteria (see pgs 35-46).

To fulfill LC's practicum requirements, candidates are expected to participate in the assigned mentor's classroom an average of six hours per week. Participation in related activities such as attending a team meeting, parent-teacher conferences, or any other event the mentor is attending that occurs outside of typical student-contact time may also be counted toward the weekly hours.

Meeting practicum requirements also requires documentation of progress aligned with monthly practicum goals. Candidates will submit a Google form sent to them at the end of each month in which they will enter dates and short summaries describing when/how they met that month's expectations along with additional accomplishments for the month that exceed the minimum expectations. Month-by-month minimum expectations are provided in the charts on the following pages.

Solo teaching

For six weeks following spring break in the second year of the program each candidate will assume the full range of teaching responsibilities in the mentor teacher's classroom. The candidate will need to take a leave of absence from their regular job duties during this interval of time in order to be fully in charge of the planning, teaching, managing, and assessing of students for six-weeks.

Candidate Responsibilities During Solo

During the final phase of the student teaching experience you will take on the full range of responsibilities of a teacher with continued support from your mentor. You may only begin your sixweek solo after submitting edTPA and completing all spring course requirements. During this time, you will take on the sole responsibility for all teacher duties including planning, preparation, assessment, communication with students' families, and attendance at meetings.

The exact start date of the solo will be negotiated between you and your mentor but must fall within a window of time defined by the program (typically between Ap 15 – May 1).

Additional requirements:

- → Teach for at least two weeks of the solo without the mentor teacher in the classroom during instructional time.
- → For the rest of the six-week solo, use your mentor as your classroom assistant.
- → Share detailed lesson and unit plans with the mentor teacher at least the Friday prior to the week of instruction. The level of detail for these plans can be negotiated between the mentor and candidate.
- → Provide detailed sub plans any time you are absent during the solo. These plans should be written with enough information for any sub to follow. If you are absent more than two days during solo, contact the clinical coordinator to determine if the solo timeframe will be extended.

Mentor Responsibilities During Solo

During this phase, student teachers should establish their independence and demonstrate the ability to resolve problems independently by taking responsibility for the full range of teacher responsibilities for a period of six weeks. You take on the role of a coach and help identify areas in need of refinement that will help them become confident in dealing with the rigors of the daily challenges in the school environment.

For two weeks of the solo you are not present (or minimally present) in the classroom during the instructional day. A good plan is for you to greet students at the start of the day, touch base with students while they are at lunch or recess breaks, and return to say good-bye at the end of the day. This assures students and their parents that you are still involved, but you are confidently handing over teaching responsibilities to your candidate.

In addition, you should:

- Retain responsibility for all state testing.
- ✓ Regularly observe and give feedback to your candidate.
- ✓ Serve as a substitute for your student teacher for any absences during solo and follow the sub plans provided for you.
- ✓ Complete the fourth formal observation.
- Upon completion of the solo, write a letter of recommendation for the candidate.

Professionalism Expectations

As described in the Graduate School Student Professional Conduct Policy, candidates are expected to meet the standards of professional conduct appropriate to their field of study. Whether on campus or in the classroom, candidates should exemplify the characteristics of successful professionals. To ensure your consistent demonstration of professional habits you are encouraged to periodically engage in a self-assessment using the ELEM Professionalism Self-Evaluation found on page 31.

If persistent demonstration of unprofessional behavior is observed by multiple faculty members (including mentors or supervisors) the candidate may be required to present a plan for professional improvement to a faculty council composed of ELEM faculty members.

Attendance Protocol

Make every effort to attend every class meeting. In the event of an unavoidable absence due to illness or an emergency, inform your instructor(s) prior to the class meeting. Each instructor will provide you with the attendance policy and procedures to follow in the event of an absence. Absences will count against participation grades in classes. Excessive absences will be brought to the attention of the program director for review.

What Mentors Need to Know

Mentors play a vital role in the professional development of Lewis & Clark candidates, and the mentorship requires a commitment of time, effort, and perseverance. Mentors serve a dual teaching role: teaching the students in their classes and teaching their candidates through modeling and discussion of practices. All mentors must meet the requirements established by TSPC:

- ✓ You must hold a valid Oregon Teaching License for Elementary—Multiple Subjects;
- ✓ You must have at least three full years of teaching experience;
- ✓ You must no longer be in probationary contract status.

If you do not meet any of these requirements, it is the mentor's responsibility to immediately notify Lewis & Clark. In addition, mentors must submit an annually updated resume to the teacher education department prior to the first day the candidate reports to the classroom.

Mentor's Role

The mentor plays three equally important roles over the year-long placement:

- Modeling effective instruction
- Communicating "teacher thinking"
- o Evaluating candidate performance

Modeling effective instruction

First and foremost, the mentor's responsibility to the candidate is to model high-quality professional practices. From planning, teaching, assessing, managing your classroom, and communicating with parents and colleagues, your student teacher needs to see what caring, competent, and qualified teachers do.

Communicating "teacher thinking"

The second critical responsibility of the mentor is to communicate frequently and clearly with the candidate. Effective mentors "think out loud" for their candidates, revealing their decision-making processes for the innumerable choices a teacher makes in the course of a normal day.

Mentors play a vital role in the professional development of Lewis & Clark candidates, and the mentorship requires a commitment of time, effort, and at times, perseverance.

Evaluating candidate performance

When the candidate begins to take on teaching responsibilities, the mentor needs to give the candidate honest and specific feedback that will help them improve. The majority of this feedback will be given informally throughout the day and week.

In addition, TSPC requires mentors to conduct at least four formal observations of the candidate and report on these to Lewis & Clark. Mentors will receive an online form to complete at regular intervals.

At each of the four triad meetings, the mentor collaborates with the supervisor to evaluate candidate performance on the CAEP Rubric (see pages 35 - 46). Formative ratings are provided at the triad meetings prior to solo. A summative rating is required following the solo.

What Supervisors Need to Know

The ELEM program hires supervisors with extensive classroom and/or administrative experience in elementary school settings. Each of our supervisors has demonstrated a high degree of success in the field of education. In addition to playing a vital role in the professional development of Lewis & Clark candidates, supervisors also serve a supportive role for mentor teachers. All supervisors must meet the requirements established by TSPC and must provide a resume (updated annually) to the Teacher Education department.

First and foremost, the supervisor's responsibility is to provide feedback to candidates on their performance in the classroom.

Supervisor's Role

First and foremost, the supervisor's responsibility is to provide feedback to candidates on their performance in the classroom by observing and documenting their teaching the classroom by observing and documenting their teaching performance.

The second critical responsibility of the supervisor is to be a conduit of information about what is happening at the placement site to Lewis & Clark faculty. Supervisors are the "eyes and ears" in the field for the program. If difficulties arise or if a mentor or candidate has raised concerns, supervisors should let the clinical coordinator know about the situation, as appropriate. Likewise, if things are going especially well, the clinical coordinator and faculty appreciate hearing this.

Observation Schedule

If a candidate is struggling, supervisors should schedule additional observations. Formal reports are not required for any observations beyond the ones described on the schedule below.

	Month	Type of observation	What the supervisor should know
Year 1	Sept or Oct	Informal observation of candidate co-teaching or leading small group.	There is no report necessary for the informal observation.
Fall Y	December	1 st formal observation of the candidate teaching a capstone lesson.	Candidate should send the formal lesson plan at least 24 hours before the observation.
ear 1	Jan or Feb	Informal observation of candidate leading the whole group.	There is no report necessary for the informal observation.
Spring Y	After spring break	2 nd formal observation of the candidate teaching a lesson from the capstone unit.	Candidate should send the formal lesson plan at least 24 hours before the observation.

ar 2	September	Informal observation of candidate teaching whole group lesson	There is no report necessary for the informal observation.
Fall Yea	Oct/Nov	3 nd formal observation of the candidate teaching lesson they planned.	Candidate should send the formal lesson plan at least 24 hours before the observation.
Year 2	Prior to solo	4 th formal observation of the candidate teaching a whole group lesson on a day the candidate is leading a full or half-day	Candidate should send the formal lesson plan at least 24 hours before the observation.
Spring Ye	During solo	5 th and 6 th formal observations of the candidate teaching lessons	One of these observations should be of a lesson from the capstone unit. Candidate should send the formal lesson plan at least 24 hours before the observation.

Supervisor Observation Protocols

For each of six formal observations the supervisor must conduct a supervision cycle consisting of five important steps:

- (1) Meet for a pre-observation conference prior to the lesson observation at which the candidate describes the lesson and identifies an area in which they would like targeted feedback.
- (2) Observe an entire lesson and collect data about the lesson. Lesson data collection may include scripting of the lesson, time-interval notes, diagrams of teacher movement in the room, tallies of interaction patterns, etc. The method of data collection will depend on the area for which the candidate has requested feedback.
- (3) Meet for a post-observation conference where the candidate shares their evaluation of the lesson and the supervisor shares their data collected and indications of the lesson's strengths, suggestions for future improvement, and general comments. The supervisor may choose a few pertinent domains from the CAEP Rubric to discuss with the candidate during this time.
- (4) Compose a formal written report using the ELEM supervisor report form. The report may include information that comes from the lesson as well as information that comes from the pre- or post-observation conference.
- (5) Upload the report to the electronic data collection system (Taskstream) and email it to the mentor.

Candidates are expected to provide lesson plans at least one day in advance containing all the elements included in the ELEM lesson plan template (see page 49).

Triad Meetings

Supervisors take the responsibility for scheduling the four required triad meetings at which the mentor, candidate, and supervisor discuss the candidate's progress.

- 1. January of 1st year: Reflection on completion of the fall term practicum goals.
- 2. After spring break in 1st year: Reflection on teaching capstone unit including data presentation.
- 3. February of 2nd year: Formative CAEP Standards 1-5.
- 4. After solo in 2nd year: Reflection on solo teaching and summative CAEP rubric (supervisor submits ratings)

Concerns about Candidate Performance

Both Lewis & Clark faculty and the district administrators at the student teaching experience site have the authority to terminate a student teaching experience placement because of unsatisfactory performance. If a member of the faculty, supervisor, mentor teacher, principal, student, or parent expresses concern about a candidate's performance, Lewis & Clark will follow the procedures listed below.

Classroom Concerns: Immediate

If the mentor observes a situation that causes immediate and critical concern, the mentor should contact the clinical coordinator within 24 hours of the incident and provide a full and detailed report describing exactly what transpired. All concerns regarding a candidate's classroom conduct will be discussed by both college and school personnel before any decision about a potential placement change is reached. The principal or district administrator may temporarily remove a candidate from the site until the concern is resolved.

Some behaviors may trigger an automatic suspension from the classroom while the incident is being investigated or evaluated. These behaviors include but are not limited to: inappropriate touching of a student, poor judgment regarding student safety, use of physical force, sexual harassment, evidence of substance abuse, or the request of a parent/guardian or building principal that the candidate be removed from the classroom upon complaint of a student.

Likewise, if a candidate has concerns about any breach of ethics such as sexual harassment or discrimination at the student teaching experience site, they should contact the clinical coordinator immediately to determine how to proceed in accordance with the graduate school's policies (see http://www.lclark.edu/graduate/student_life/handbook/college_policies/). College policies governing issues such as harassment, substance abuse, and sexual conduct can be found on the LC website.

Student/Parent Complaint

If a student or parent complaint generates a request from the mentor or principal for the removal of a candidate from the classroom or school site, the mentor or principal should contact the clinical coordinator within 24 hours of the complaint. All concerns regarding a candidate's classroom conduct should be discussed by both college and school personnel before any decisions about a potential placement change is reached. The principal or district administrator may temporarily remove a candidate from the site until the concern is resolved.

Substance Abuse or Sexual Misconduct

The college has multiple policies that govern sexual conduct and harassment, substance abuse, and the removal of candidates from programs based on evaluations of the safety and security of the community at large. In the context of field placement sites, substance abuse, sexual harassment, and other inappropriate behaviors fall under the umbrella of "professional conduct." If suspicion of substance abuse or sexual misconduct arises, the candidate will be immediately removed from the student teaching experience site until the proper procedure can be put into place. The Student Professional Conduct Policy, including procedures for student conduct review, can be found in the Graduate School catalog. Other college-wide policies governing substance abuse, sexual conduct, and removal from an academic program can be found in the Navigator Student Handbook.

Classroom Concerns: Lack of Progress on the CAEP Rubric

Candidates' teaching competency is evaluated using the CAEP Rubric. The standards described in this rubric are applied throughout the program and are the basis for providing explicit and detailed feedback to candidates. It is also a basis for assessment of the progress of candidates toward successful completion of the program.

There may be times when a faculty member, supervisor, or mentor identifies a particular area of challenge or struggle for a candidate. In such cases, the faculty member, supervisor, or mentor will contact the clinical coordinator who will schedule a meeting for the purpose of establishing support for improvement in this/these area(s). This meeting will include the candidate, mentor, and clinical coordinator. Upon conclusion of the meeting the clinical coordinator will send an email to all meeting attendees and the supervisor. In this email the clinical coordinator will document the meeting outcomes including actions to be taken by the candidate, a timeline, expected indicators of progress, and a date for a follow-up discussion (meeting or email). On the follow-up date, the candidate, mentor, and clinical coordinator will report on progress toward an acceptable rating in each of the areas of concern on the CAEP Rubric. If the candidate is making sufficient progress, no further action or documentation is necessary. If faculty judge the progress insufficient, a formal plan of assistance will be implemented (see below).

Plans of Assistance

If a faculty member, supervisor, or mentor determines that there has not been sufficient progress in the areas identified in the meeting described above or as detailed in this handbook, a formal plan of assistance will be created by the clinical coordinator in consultation with the candidate, mentor, and supervisor. A plan of assistance can also be initiated without following the steps described in the preceding section in the event of serious concerns about performance, typically near the beginning of the solo teaching experience.

A plan of assistance will specify the areas in which the candidate must improve in order to satisfy the requirements set by Lewis & Clark for successful completion of the MAT program and recommendation to TSPC for a Preliminary Teaching License. It will include a detailed description of the concerns, strategies and resources for addressing the concerns, a timeline for meeting the goals, and a plan for assessing progress. Copies of the plan of assistance will be distributed to the candidate, mentor, and supervisor who may, if they desire, make further suggestions for the plan. The candidate may request that the program director participate in the discussions about the plan of assistance for the candidate. Failure to make satisfactory progress following this plan of assistance may result in the decision by Lewis & Clark not to recommend the candidate for licensure.

If a candidate is dissatisfied with the outcome or the process, they may discuss these concerns with the department chair. If the candidate is not satisfied with the department chair's decision, they may request a meeting with the dean. If any concern is serious enough to merit a formal review and potential academic or disciplinary action (up to and including dismissal from the program), the program director will follow the Student Professional Conduct Review Process described in the Graduate Catalog.

Licensure

The Teacher Education office maintains a licensure file for each candidate. In order to recommend a candidate for licensure we need to have accurate records of each of the following. Whenever possible, keep a copy of each of these items for your personal records.

Admission to the Preliminary Teaching License program.
Verification of a bachelor's degree or higher from a regionally accredited institution.
Documentation of background clearance from TSPC.
Successful completion of program curriculum content complying with the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission's Program Review and Standards Handbook regarding "Civil Rights and Professional Ethics Responsibilities."
[△] Passing score submitted to Lewis & Clark on edTPA as scored by Pearson.
Six formal observation reports from supervisor.
Documentation of four formal evaluations completed by the mentor.
Summative CAEP Rubric submitted by supervisor.
[△] Passing scores submitted to Lewis & Clark for NES subject area test.
Successful completion of all licensure courses with course grades issued.

- 1) Have results sent directly to Lewis & Clark: At the time of test registration, the student can request that the testing company send the official results to Lewis & Clark. This is the preferred and most efficient way to get results to us, and this is the only way edTPA results are reported.
- 2) Verify results in person: For the ORELA: Civil Rights and NES Subject Area Tests, the student can come to the admissions office and log in to their testing account in the presence of admissions staff.
- 3) Forward score report email: For the ORELA: Civil Rights and NES Subject Area Tests, the student must forward the entire email--not just the attachment with the testscores—to the admissions office at gseadmit@lclark.edu.

[△] Three options to submit official test scores

Additional Policies Related to Recommendation for Licensure

This handbook describes the requirements that must be successfully completed in order for a candidate to be recommended for licensure. Failure to complete any of these requirements will lead to the student not being recommended for licensure. Reasons may include a wide range of factors, from the inability to fulfill performance expectations to extended absences or illness. The determination that a student will not be recommended for licensure will be made by the department chair, on the recommendation of the program director and clinical coordinator.

Under certain circumstances, a candidate who cannot be recommended for licensure at the customary completion of the program will not be able to fulfill the requirements of the program within the time remaining in the school year may be given one or both of the following options:

Additional student teaching experience

In cases where a candidate has been unable to satisfactorily complete the requirements of the program, but has demonstrated the promise of being able to do so with an additional term of student teaching, the department chair may grant, at their discretion, the option of completing an additional fall student teaching experience. Typically, the additional practicum typically begins in late August and continues until winter break. The practicum is required to enable the candidate to complete the two major Oregon Administrative Regulation requirements of nine weeks of full-time student teaching (including at least six weeks of successful solo teaching) and the successful completion of the edTPA.

Program change: M.Ed. in Educational Studies

If a candidate is unable to complete the requirements necessary to be recommended for licensure, but has demonstrated the potential to complete a master's degree in the field of education that does not involve classroom teaching, the department chair may grant, at their discretion, the candidate's admission to the M.Ed. Program in Educational Studies. Requirements for this degree can be found in the Graduate Catalog.

In cases where a candidate wishes to appeal the decision of the department chair, they may submit a written request to the Dean of the Graduate School.

ELEM Professionalism Expectations

Communication and Professionalism
Expectation		Selected indicators
The candidate is consistently organized and manages time well.		I consistently arrive to school and class on time and prepared. I initiate timely discussions with mentor or faculty for assignments or projects when necessary. I follow course policies when a request for an extension is necessary.
2. The candidate is thoughtfully and effectively engaged in courses and the school community.		I make positive contributions to the work at hand. I refrain from interacting with technology at inappropriate times. I interact with professionals throughout the school (e.g. counselors, librarians, specialists, support staff, and administrators). I attend special events even if they take place outside the school day. I pay attention with an open and curious mind to the activities and experiences I encounter whether at school or in classes at LC. I refrain from doing homework while at my placement.
3. The candidate consistently shows strong and effective skills in verbal, nonverbal, and written communication.		I reply to emails promptly and professionally (within 24 hours). I produce work that reflects the ELEM Academic Writing Guidelines (see page 51). I attend to my tone of voice, facial expressions, and body language in all professional interactions.
4. The candidate is dependable and responsible.		I minimize absences and follow course and program policies for reporting absences. I follow through with commitments I make to peers, mentor, and faculty.

Openness to Learning and Self-Awareness
Expectation	Selected indicators
5. The candidate approaches all program activities with curiosity and the expectation that there is something to learn.	 □ I project self-assurance and confidence that is balanced with humility and openness to learning. □ I respond to new information with open-minded comments like, "I wonder" and "Tell me more" □ I disagree respectfully when I encounter opinions and practices that do not match my own.
6. The candidate is concerned with their own professional growth.	 □ I complete course assignments in a timely manner and only submit work that represents my best effort. □ I seek and use feedback from faculty, mentor, and supervisor. □ I use instructor feedback on prior assignments to make improvements on future assignments. □ I take responsibility for my progress as measured by the month-by-month guidelines presented in the ELEM Handbook.

7. The candidate identifies with the profession of teaching and conducts themself in a professional manner in appearance, attitude,	I adhere to school norms for faculty attire when at school. I present myself in a professional manner. I demonstrate a conscientious work ethic. I willingly accept increasing responsibilities over the course of the year.

Ethical and Respectful Behavior	Ethical and Respectful Behavior
Expectation	Selected indicators
8. The candidate recognizes and applies ethical and legal requirements and professional standards.	 □ I know and follow the ethical, legal, and professional responsibilities defined in the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) rules. □ I know and follow Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) laws respecting students' education records. □ I know and follow the Oregon statutes for reporting child abuse. □ I know and follow Lewis & Clark policies regarding professional conduct and academic integrity. □ I know and follow the policies of my school and district.
9. The candidate follows appropriate conflict resolution processes.	 ☐ I seek wise counsel for resolving ongoing or difficult conflicts. ☐ I address issues directly with the individual(s) with whom the conflict exists. ☐ I demonstrate self-regulation with regard to anger and impulse control in all professional interactions.
10. The candidate respects and values every individual in the school and college communities.	 □ I refrain from gossip and decline to participate in conversations intended to demean or belittle others. □ I interact respectfully with parents, peers, mentors, faculty regardless of culture, age, gender, race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sexual orientation, disability, language, and socioeconomic status. □ I respect the authority of the individuals in leadership roles (faculty, mentor, administrators, etc.).
11. The candidate recognizes the boundaries of their particular competencies and the limitations of their expertise.	 □ I am cautious when responding to unfamiliar situations in which I am unsure of appropriate policies or protocols. □ I take responsibility for compensating for my lack of knowledge or experience by seeking the counsel of program faculty and school-based mentors. □ I actively seek opportunities to increase my knowledge and competence. □ I recognize the limitations associated with my role as a guest inthe school community.

If persistent demonstration of unprofessional behavior is observed by multiple faculty members (including mentors or supervisors) the candidate may be required to present a plan for professional improvement to a faculty council composed of ELEM faculty members.

CAEP Rubric of K-6 Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards (Streamlined Version-2022)

STANDARD 1 - Understanding and Addressing Each Child's Developmental and Learning Needs

	Level 1: The Beginning Candidate Little or no evidence that the candidate meets the component's performance expectation.	Level 2: The Developing Candidate Demonstrating some but not all of the performance characteristics necessary to meet the standard at an acceptable level.	Level 3: The Competent Candidate Demonstrating proficiency at an acceptable level for a candidate who is just completing an Elementary teacher preparation program and is ready to begin teaching in any K-6 Elementary classroom as a novice licensed K-6 Elementary teacher.	Level 4: The Accomplished Candidate Demonstrating exemplary practice for a candidate who is just completing an Elementary teacher preparation program and is ready to begin teaching in any K-6 Elementary classroom as a novice licensed K- 6 Elementary teacher.

Candidate's instructional plans address some but not all of these components: goals, materials, learning activities, grouping models, educational technologies, assessments, and modifications or adaptations for students with special needs, and does not connect or relate these components.	Candidate's instructional plans are based on evidence of individual student's strengths and needs, and include use of goals, materials, learning activities, grouping models, educational technologies, assessments, and modifications or adaptations for students with special needs.	Candidate's instructional plans are based on evidence of individual student's strengths and needs, and include coordinated use of materials, learning activities, grouping models, educational technologies, and assessments, and adaptations for students with special needs.
	Candidates do not plan for effective use of time in instruction.	Candidate's plans for use of instructional time do not address a balance of time for instruction, engaged student learning, and assessment.	Candidates allocate a balance of time for instruction, academic engagement support, learning activities and assessments.	Candidates plan for use of instructional time by allocating a balance of time for instruction, engaged student learning, and assessment.

3.d - Candidates differentiate instructional plans to meet the needs of diverse students in the classroom.	Candidate does not plan for differentiated instruction to meet the needs of subsets of students, or individual students in the classroom.	Candidate plans are differentiated based on strengths or needs of a subset of students in the classroom and include modifying content or instructional processes.	Candidate plans are differentiated based on strengths and needs of individual students and include using a variety of instructional approaches, modifying content, instructional processes, products, and learning environments that address individual student interests and preferences for learning.	Candidate plans are differentiated according to learner readiness, strengths, weaknesses, interests, and motivators of individual students, and include using a variety of instructional approaches, modifying content, instructional processes, products, and learning environments that address individual student interests and preferences for learning. Plans differentiate content by planning a variety of options that modify the difficulty, depth, or complexity of the materials.

3.e – Candidates manage the classroom by establishing and maintaining social norms and behavioral expectations.	Candidate does not establish classroom rules or procedures; or, established rules and procedures do not lead to productive interactions or engagement in learning.	Candidate creates rules for behavior and social interaction or establishes procedures for academic work; but does not involve students in establishing these norms.	Candidate establishes rules and procedures for behavior, social interaction, and academic work, and involves students in the process of setting these norms.	Candidate establishes rules and procedures for behavior, social interaction, and academic work, and involves students in the process of setting these norms.
	Candidate is ineffective in maintaining norms established by those rules or procedures. Candidate uses sarcasm or punitive consequences to attempt to manage student behavior.	Candidate is inconsistent in maintaining expectations for rules and procedures.	Candidates maintain the expectations for rules and procedures by periodically reviewing the expectations, recognizing students' successful participation, and requesting student input into revision of norms.	Candidates maintain the expectations for rules and procedures through explicit instruction to help students acquire such social competencies as: emotion recognition, stress-management, empathy, problem-solving, or decision-making skills.
3.f – Candidates explicitly support motivation and engagement in learning through diverse evidence-based practices.	Candidate does not implement actions intended to increase student engagement in academic learning and activities and displays teacher-student interactions that are likely to decrease motivation and engagement such as over control, disregard for students' needs, sarcasm or negativity.	Candidates support student engagement in learning through problem solving and inquiry.	Candidates support student engagement in learning by implementing practices such as: affording students an abundance of materials for academic learning to assure a high volume of time spent on challenging and realistic learning tasks; scheduling sufficient time for students' deep immersion in purposeful reading, mathematics, and content learning; and providing thought provoking questions that encourage reasoning individually and collaboratively.	Candidates differentiate engagement support for students with special needs, English language learners, and students with varying achievement levels. Candidates use formative assessment to improve engagement support.

4.a – Candidates use a variety of instructional practices that support the learning of every child.	Candidate does not use appropriate instructional practices to support student learning.	Candidate uses appropriate instructional practices but does not use a variety of strategies or differentiate instruction to meet the individual needs of each student.	Candidate uses a variety of appropriate instructional practices such as direct instruction, inquiry-based learning, and project-based learning, and makes attempts to differentiate instruction that supports the learning of every student.	Candidate varies the use of instructional practices and differentiates instruction to support the learning of every student.
	Candidate does not use appropriate resource materials during instruction to support children's development of skills requisite to problem solving, and critical and creative thinking.	Candidate uses appropriate resources although the variety of resources is limited and not readily adapted to differentiate instruction.	Candidate uses a variety of appropriate resource materials during instruction that supports the learning of every student.	Candidate differentially uses a variety of resource materials that provides students with guided opportunities to make their own choices and supports the development of skills requisite to problem solving and critical thinking of every student.

4.b – Candidates teach a cohesive sequence of lessons to ensure sequential and appropriate learning opportunities for each child.	Candidate does not use research supported instructional approaches when teaching a sequence of lessons.	Candidate uses research- supported instructional approaches when teaching a cohesive sequence of lessons.	Candidate consistently uses research supported instructional approaches when teaching a cohesive sequence of lessons.	Candidate consistently uses research supported instructional approaches when teaching a cohesive sequence of lessons and differentiates instruction based on the needs of each student.
	Candidate does not sequence instruction that provides students with connected learning opportunities.	Candidate sequences instruction that provides students with connected learning opportunities.	Candidate sequences instruction that provides students with connected learning opportunities and sufficient opportunities to learn foundational concepts and skills with the intent of moving on to more advanced content in subsequent lessons.	Candidate sequences instruction that provides students with connected learning opportunities and sufficient opportunities to learn foundational concepts and skills, and then extends learning of advanced content based on individual student needs.

4.c – Candidates explicitly_ teach concepts, strategies, and skills, as appropriate, to guide learners as they think about and learn academic content.	Candidate does not use explicit instruction to address established and developmentally appropriate goals.	Candidate uses explicit instruction to address established and developmentally appropriate goals.	Candidate uses explicit instruction to address established and developmentally appropriate goals based on assessment information, knowledge of students, and the candidate's knowledge of content.	Using explicit instruction, the candidate determines and adjusts, as needed, established and developmentally appropriate goals based on assessment information, knowledge of students, and the candidate's knowledge of content.
	Candidate does not monitor student progress in learning the identified content. O 1	Candidate monitors student progress in learning the identified content. Candidate monitors student progress in learning the identified content. Candidate Candidate	Candidate monitors student progress in learning the identified content and uses this information to adjust planning and instruction. O	Candidate monitors student progress in learning the identified content and uses this information to provide guided instruction and practice to support students in addressing challenging learning goals.
4.d – Candidates provide constructive feedback to guide children's learning, increase motivation, and improve student engagement.	Candidate does not provide feedback to guide students' learning or the feedback provided is negative or not timely, specific, meaningful, genuine, or age appropriate.	Candidate provides feedback to guide students' learning although the feedback is not consistently goal oriented, timely, specific, meaningful, genuine and ageappropriate.	Candidate consistently provides feedback that is goal-oriented, timely, specific, meaningful, genuine, and age appropriate.	Candidate consistently provides students with effective and age appropriate feedback and provides opportunities for students to set and monitor both long range and short range goals for their own learning.
	Candidate does not provide feedback that increases student engagement and motivation to learn intended goals.	Candidate does not provide feedback and assistance to students in developing error identification skills, self-evaluation, and independence in learning.	Candidate provides feedback and assistance in developing misconception identification skills, self-evaluation, and independence in learning.	Candidate provides feedback and assistance and engages students in activities that foster the development of misconception identification skills, selfevaluation, and independence in learning.

4.f – Candidates effectively organize and manage small group instruction to provide more focused, intensive instruction and differentiate teaching to meet the learning needs of each child.	Candidate does not develop an appropriate plan or use an effective instructional approach when teaching small heterogeneous or homogeneous group of students.	Candidate either does not develop an appropriate plan or does not use an effective instructional approach when teaching a small heterogeneous or homogeneous group of students.	Candidate develops an appropriate plan and delivers a lesson for a small heterogeneous or homogeneous group of students using an instructional approach that is effective and appropriate to the content being taught.	Candidate develops and delivers a lesson for small heterogeneous or homogeneous groups of students using an effective approach to instruction that is responsive to the students' individual learning needs and cultural backgrounds.
	Candidate does not appropriately monitor the progress of students who are placed in small heterogeneous or homogeneous groups for instruction. ELEM Academic Writing Guidelines

How do I know if my work meets Lewis & Clark's professional writing standards?

Writing Trait	Questions to ask
Ideas and Content	 Does the paper address exactly what was described in the assignment? Are generalizations and arguments supported with relevant examples, details, and/or quotes as appropriate? Did you include ideas or quotations from experts (text, web-based resources, other professionals) when appropriate and with proper citations? Are the sources cited professional and academic (unless otherwise appropriate for the assignment)?
Organization	 Does the paper include a meaningful introduction and conclusion? Does the paper flow well and include appropriate transition words and phrases? Do the paragraphs include topic sentences followed by related content? Does the order of the paragraphs make logical sense?
Voice	 Is the tone of the paper objective and aligned with professional norms? Is the paper free from colloquialisms and slang? Did you refrain from making evaluative or judgmental statements (unless this is appropriate for the assignment)? Is the paper free from sexist, racist, or culturally insensitive language?
Sentence Fluency	 Are the sentences straightforward and clear? Does the paper contain sentences of varied length and complexity? Are professional vocabulary terms used appropriately?
Conventions	 Is the paper free of spelling errors? Is the punctuation correct? Are common homophones used correctly (e.g. their/there/they're; its/it's) Are all sentences complete? Is the paper double-spaced and in size 12 font (unless otherwise directed)? Did you include a "works cited" list for in-text citations?
