Instructor Biography: I am a Licensed Professional Counselor and have experience as a Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselor. I received my Master's Degree in Agency Counseling at the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma, WA. Upon moving to Portland, I provided group counseling in a corrections facility and local non-profit as a drug and alcohol counselor and mental health counselor serving outpatient and inpatient populations. Currently, I work in private practice with a focus on providing relational counseling that infuses awareness of political struggles into my work with individuals and couples. I am also currently engaged in many projects connected to group work and facilitation.

"Your practicum/internship can be viewed as a time to build a framework of new professional relational skills on a foundation of the material you have learned in your counseling program courses, your own life experiences, and your personal values and philosophies. This framework is composed of new perspectives, understandings, abilities, and skills, added gradually and with care. Your goal is to construct a strong framework over a solid foundation, working diligently but patiently, and often standing back to take a look at the work you have accomplished so far."(Faiver, Eisengart et 2004)

"Recovery can take place only within the context of relationships; it cannot occur in isolation."
- Judith Herman

Course Description

This class is designed to provide weekly group supervision to practicum students while working with clients at their designated Lewis and Clark clinical sites. Students will receive supervision from this class in conjunction with weekly individual/triadic supervision from a designated qualified professional at their clinical site. The focus of the class will include developing a therapeutic relationship and the qualities of counselor empathy and compassion. The recognition of the impact of race, culture, gender, sexual orientation and poverty as well as other societal and political influences that define the context of the therapeutic relationship. The awareness and use of sound ethical decision making. The practice and use of counseling skills along with client conceptualization integrated with theoretical knowledge to enhance working effectively with clients. A beginning knowledge of client assessment, the development of treatment planning which includes articulating the goals and objectives as well as interventions will be developed. The establishment of a self-care practice and development of professional boundaries will be central as students become aware of countertransference, vicarious trauma while growing professionally as a counselor.

Oregon State Licensure for Professional Counselors

Successful completion of this course is necessary for fulfillment of degree requirements for any specialty areas in the Counseling Psychology Department. This course is necessary for gaining access to licensure as a professional counselor.

GRADING

This class is graded on a scale of A, B, with anything below a B is a failure to complete the class. Each student will be evaluated in the areas of counseling competence including use effective use of micro skills, theoretical knowledge, self-awareness, and ethical practice. Of consideration is case presentations, case conceptualization, effectiveness of oral and written communication, as well as openness to feedback and supervision. Evaluation methods will include written work, observation, tape or audio review, transcriptions, case presentations, supervisor evaluations and in class participation along with timely completion of all class assignments. Students will be able to review the evaluation forms utilized by the site supervisor to have an understanding of that part of the evaluation criteria. There will be a minimum of one site visit as well as bi-monthly e-mail and telephone contact with your supervisor. Judgments about what constitutes satisfactory performance will be made by campus instructor in collaboration with the on-site supervisor.

- The campus instructor will make final decisions about grading.
- Failure to complete class requirements may include a deferred grade as well as the possible enrollment in a second semester of practicum.

- Failure to complete the required number of direct service hours in a semester may result in a deferred grade with the possible enrollment in a second semester of practicum.
- Failure to follow Ethical Guidelines of the profession will require a meeting with campus supervisor to determine the next steps for addressing the concerns.
- Sometimes a student needs more than one semester to develop and demonstrate the requirements of a master's level counselor. Occasionally personal issues or life events will make it impossible for a student to move forward in their growth as a counselor and they will be encouraged or required to take some time off for self care.

Course Requirements: Required hours: This fourteen week practicum experience is based on the minimum requirements of one and one half hours a week of group supervision (held on campus as a three hour class) and one hour a week of individual or triadic supervision. Students must have a minimum of forty hours of direct client contact and the overall practicum experience (including campus group supervision) must be at least one hundred hours over the fourteen weeks. Students may obtain more direct client hours than the minimum, but are limited to no more than sixteen hours at their clinical site a week. This includes on site supervision, on site group supervision and required paperwork.

Ethical Guidelines

Students are expected to follow the ethical guidelines put forth by the American Counselor Association and to seek supervision when there is case confusion or an ethical dilemma to be resolved. Failure to follow ethical guidelines and/or non-disclosure of ethical problems and the seeking of appropriate supervision may result in dismissal from the practicum and/or counseling program. It is expected that students have read and will follow the guidelines put forth in the internship manual for the Lewis and Clark Graduate School Counseling Psychology Program. Students are expected to share their process and case information as accurately and completely as possible in order to facilitate a meaningful and successful supervision opportunity. To follow ethical guidelines in relation to clients and to respect the work of our peers it is of fundamental importance that the contents of group discussion be regarded as absolutely confidential.

Confidentiality and Informed Consent

Students will make their clients aware they are student interns from Lewis and Clark College under supervision. Clients should know that information about the counseling experience will be brought to a group supervision class for the purpose of training practicum students. Their names will not be used in order to keep their identity confidential. Informed consent forms will be used with all clients that delineate what information about them will be used (and how it will be protected), for what purpose and in what setting. Clients under the age of 14 must have the forms signed by a parent or legal guardian. This informed consent is required in addition to any forms a supervision site requires for release of confidential information. Student interns will be vigilant in keeping records and tapes secure during transportation for the purpose of keeping client information confidential. Tapes will be erased or destroyed after a practicum student's final grade has been posted.

Mandated Reporting

Students will make mandated reports in accordance with Oregon and Washington Statutes. Any questions about what constitutes a report or how to make a report should be immediately discussed with site supervisor (or phone the class instructor if a licensed professional is not available at the site.) Students will utilize policies and forms related to making those mandate reports as provided at their sites.

Attendance

- ❖ It is essential that students attend each class session to receive credit for the required campus supervision hours.
- ❖ Any missed classes will require make-up work including any of the following; written work including research, additional transcript of counseling session and professional reading with written review.
- ❖ Any “planned absences” must be discussed with and approved by the course professor and site supervisor at least two weeks in advance of the absence.
- ❖ Unplanned absences: In case of illness and true emergencies please notify site supervisor and campus supervisor as soon as possible.
- ❖ More than one absence a semester could result in a failure to complete the class.
- ❖ Any unexcused absences or failure to notify campus and site supervisor of absences will also result in the loss of supervision credit and counseling hours for that week as well as a meeting with the campus supervisor to determine outcome which might include receiving a failing grade for the class.
- ❖ Late to class: More than 20 minutes will require make-up work at the discretion of the instructor. Please implement the necessary boundaries for leaving work or internship sites on time. Arriving late impacts the work of your classmates.

Laptops and Cell Phones

Due the experiential nature of the class laptops may be used only when designated by the instructor. Cell phones must be silenced and text messaging is not allowed during class time. If there is an emergency you may exit the class to use your cell. Laptops and cells phones may of course be used on breaks. Please come prepared to take hand written notes. If a disability requires the use of a laptop please let the instructor know at the beginning of the semester.

Please notify instructor of any special learning considerations that need to be taken into considerations as covered by the American Disabilities Act.
