ASSIGNMENTS

Reflective journal: 20 points (4 x 5 points each)

Class participation: 50 points (5 x 10 points each). Each week you will be asked to demonstrate reading comprehension and engagement with the course and its material.

Group project: 30 points. The class project is a group project insofar as you and a few of your classmates will have to find unique and additional resources (i.e. on-line, print, audio-visual, blog, local agencies, scholarly article, interview, review of local, state or federal law, etc.) to the assigned readings. This assignment is intended to develop and encourage engagement with the LGBTQ community and resources that support the community. You must provide evidence of your resource (e.g. written questions and answers from an interview, an academic article or article from popular media, etc.), and post it on the Moodle page under Group project (person icon) for your colleagues to access. You must also provide a verbal summary of the resource (e.g. how it relates to the class topic, it's relevance to the LGBTQ community, relevance to therapy with LGBTQ individuals, couples and families, how to use the resource, etc.), and present it to the class. Presentations should be about 5 minutes. This assignment will be reviewed in week one.

CONFIDENTIALITY, SELF-DISCLOSURE AND ETHICS

This course requires role-playing and other experiential learning activities to enhance your understanding of the concepts discussed in class. During these activities you will be asked to “act” as a client and/or a therapist and/or review personal beliefs. In these role-play activities or experiential activities a colleague may say something personally important and/or confidential. It is your duty as a colleague and mental health professionals-in-training to maintain confidentiality and trust. Students are not required to share personal information as part of the classroom dynamics, or as a requirement for any evaluation or grading purposes. Therefore, students are asked to be intentional about what they choose to share in the class during classroom activities. Please adhere to the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy code of ethics (AAMFT) or to the professional code of ethics of your allegiance.

ABSENCES

Please notify the instructor when you are unable to attend class. Missing any class time may result in an additional class assignment at the discretion of the instructor. It is the student’s responsibility to contact the instructor to discuss the make-up work. Missing more than two classes will result in failure to complete class, (any exceptional circumstances may be considered by the instructor).

NON-DISCRIMINATION POLICY/SPECIAL ASSISTANCE

Lewis & Clark College adheres to a nondiscriminatory policy with respect to employment, enrollment, and program. The College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, sex, national origin, age, handicap or disability, sexual orientation, or marital status and has a firm commitment to promote the letter and spirit of all equal opportunity and civil rights laws.
