Examples of Estimated Total Tuition Cost by Program

The table below shows an estimate of the total tuition cost for select programs. These estimates were calculated by multiplying the total number of required credits by the $995/credit tuition rate that is in effect for the 2021-22 academic year.

Students should expect a minimal tuition increase every summer semester when the new academic year begins. As a result of this annual increase, each program's actual total tuition cost will be higher than the estimate listed. Also note that individual course fees and fees associated with tests, assessments, background checks, and/or licensing are not included in the estimates.

Actual tuition charges will vary by semester depending on the number of credits taken. Visit program webpages to find current degree requirements, course sequence sheets, and program planning worksheets.
