COURSE DESCRIPTION
An introduction to theoretical systems and practical approaches to working with children and families in various counseling settings. Ethical principles, self-awareness, personal counseling style and honoring of diversity will be examined through textbook reading, class discussions, reflective assignments, as well as various classroom activities to assist students in beginning work with children and families. Students will practice counseling skills related to working with children and families and will develop awareness and intentionality in conceptualization of child and family clients.

ESSENTIAL GOALS
Students will establish a foundation for their professional role as effective counselors working with children and families through a comprehensive study of the major theories of family counseling and therapy. Through presentations, projects and dialogues students will develop awareness and intentionality in the conceptualization of issues impacting families. Applied use of clinical skills representing the dynamics of theory, diversity including race, power and privilege as well as social justice will be identified and practiced. Self-awareness and reflection of how personal experiences in family dynamics have shaped your own understanding of relationship, attachment and growth will create a foundation of accountability with client treatment, and is an essential component in effective therapeutic interactions.

CPSY DEPARTMENTAL ATTENDANCE POLICY
Class attendance is expected and required. It is important to note that although you will be expected to make up missed course content, any missed class time will lower your ability to earn full professional participation points and potentially jeopardize your ability to complete the requirements for this course. Missing more than ten percent of class time may result in failure to complete the class. This would be 4.5 hours of a 45 hour class (3 credits), 3.0 hours for a 30 hour class (2 credits) or 1.5 hours for a 15 hour class (1 credit.) In case of extreme hardship and also at the discretion of the instructor, a grade of incomplete may be given for an assignment or the entire course. In such cases, the work to be submitted in order to remove the incomplete must be documented appropriately and stated deadlines met.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES POLICY
Lewis & Clark College is committed to serving the needs of its students with disabilities. Professional staff in the office of Student Support Services ensure that disabled students receive all of the benefits of a comprehensive selection of services, and a formal Student Disability Grievance Procedure provides prompt and equitable resolution of any complaints arising out the College’s responsibilities under the ADA Amendments Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and other pertinent federal, state, and local disability anti-discrimination laws. COURSE PROJECTS AND ASSIGNMENTS

Weekly Logs
For each week of reading, you will write a 1-2 page log engaging in critical thinking and integration of theory, application of interventions and personal reflections. These logs will be discussed in class. You are encouraged to direct your logs towards your therapy interest (i.e. addictions, cultural inequities, mindfulness). The logs will be integrated into a body of work that utilizes theory and concepts from the texts to support your area interest and conceptualizations of successful therapy interventions and skills. A hard copy of your logs are due at the beginning of each class. 8 assignments. 20 pts

Capstone Project
You will create a 10 minute presentation for the class utilizing the logs you’ve kept throughout the course. Your presentation will highlight at minimum three specific areas of text reading (at least one from the textbook, and at least one from No-Drama Discipline or Everyday Blessings). You are encouraged to gear your presentation towards your area of interest and develop a project that utilizes your critical thinking and understanding of the course material through your lens. Personal Reflection Piece can contribute directly or indirectly to this project/presentation. 20 pts

Personal Reflection Piece
For this project you will develop an understanding of your personal history and family dynamics using one or more of the following modes of reflection: A personal narrative of approximately 4 pages reflecting on how your family dynamics has shaped your understanding of yourself; A family Genogram; An artistic representation such as a painting, needlepoint, written play, series of poems, a song. You will not be required to share your Personal Reflection with your peers, but time to share will be built in to class time if you choose. 25 pts.

Family Therapy Practice
Each student will have at least one opportunity to practice therapy using other students as their “clients”. Groups will be formed within the first three sessions. This will be a 15 minute session with time for classroom feedback and interaction. Each student is required to write a case study as a free write during class time. They will be collected and distributed randomly to the different groups. 25 pts

Class Participation
While you are expected to attend each class on time and in completion, please inform me if you are going to be absent via email or phone so we can make arrangements for an assignment that will serve as hours needed to fulfill class requirements. In addition to required attendance, your class participation is crucial to the class being a successful and meaningful aspect of your education and growth as a therapist and personal development. It is my hope through various modes of learning and dynamic experiences between you and your cohort, this class will synthesize an understanding of your growth and personhood and the ways in which your life and experiences influence your practice of helping others through counseling. Should class participation prove challenging for you, please contact me outside of class time to discuss. 10 pts
