CATALOG DESCRIPTION

Advanced knowledge and practice of sex therapy from a systemic, relational perspective. The course includes a focus on the professional context and educational requirements for eventual certification as a sex therapist.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Participants in this course learn advanced theories and techniques for providing sex therapy. Because the course relies heavily on couple and family therapy theory and practice, students must be in the MCFT program; CPSY 504, CPSY 560, CPSY 562, CPSY 526, and CPSY 569 are prerequisites.

This course includes a practical experience that provides participants with the opportunity to engage in assessment, treatment planning, intervention, and outcome evaluation in the clinical treatment of sexual issues. Participants will also become more familiar with the broader professional context and requirements for becoming certified sex therapists.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

1. Engage in practicum experience, i.e. exposure to treatment of clinical cases through observation and demonstration.
2. Apply theory to practice
3. Advance studies in the treatment of typical issues presented in sex therapy
4. Practice case conceptualization based on the dynamic nature of practice
5. Attend to self of the therapist and ethics with particular emphasis on power and justice
6. Critical consumption and application of sex therapy research

Weekly Research Presentations
Students will present for 20 minutes with 10 minutes of questions on a particular sex therapy topic every week. The focus should be on treatment, not on theory. You can give some background in regards to theory but the focus should be on what can we do with the idea? I encourage you to come up with interventions. You will be graded by your peers with the following rubric. This assignment is worth 40 points.

In case of extreme hardship and also at the discretion of the instructor, a grade of incomplete may be given for an assignment or the entire course. In such cases, the work to be submitted in order to remove the incomplete must be documented appropriately and stated deadlines met. Students are expected to be on time to class and tardiness maybe seen as an absence that requires make-up work.
