

Lewis & Clark - Student Loan Default Rate

School	Default Rate			No. in Default			No. in Repay			Enrollment figures
	FY2013	FY2014	FY2015	FY2013	FY2014	FY2015	FY2013	FY2014	FY2015	FY2013	FY2014	FY2015
Lewis & Clark College*	1.5%	1.6%	2.1%	13	13	17	828	794	796	4,948	4,375	4,137
Aggregate for OR Institutions with Educator Prep Program	4.5%	5.1%	5.1%	1,317	1,525	1,658	29,108	29,927	846	151,501	153,173	157,451
Aggregate for all OR Private, Not-for-profit Institutions with like Carnegie Class	1.9%	1.8%	2.1%	49	46	52	2,581	2,584	2,460	12,772	11,291	11,046
State Average	7.2%	7.3%	8.1%	179	143	122	1,286	1,043	973	5,309	5,180	5,020

Table data taken from Federal Student Aid, U.S. Department of Education, <https://ifap.ed.gov/ifap/> in December 2018 and includes both FEL and FDL programs

*College of Arts & Sciences, Law School and Graduate School of Education & Counseling data is combined

Master's Degree or Doctor's Degree Institutions, Private and Public Institutions

Lewis & Clark, Willamette University, Reed College, and Linfield College

Lewis & Clark's data reflects a low percentage of students in default on their loans. While this rate has increased slightly over the three years of data collected, it is still well below the state average and the small increase is a data trend found in every comparison group.