Catalogue Description and Course Goals

A Colloquium is an academic seminar on a broad field of study, usually led by a different lecturer at each meeting. This Colloquium will be focused on the broad field of School Psychology, and all candidates across all three cohorts of the school psychology program are required to attend in order to address, together, relevant topics of the profession that concern us all. The Colloquium meets four times per academic year, with a different topic as the focus for each meeting. These four topics include: 1) Issues in Practicum and Internship Supervision; 2) Variations of the Practice of School Psychology; 3) Alumni Relations and Mentorship; and 4) Cross-Professional Collaboration.

The School Psychology Colloquium challenges school psychology candidates to address issues of concern across all three cohorts while simultaneously providing mentorship across these cohorts through conversation, guidance, and shared information. Course goals for participants include:

- a. Engaging with the data, research and theory regarding topics of shared concern in the field of school psychology
- b. Gaining an understanding of the practices of mentorship, supervision and on-going professional development in the field of school psychology
- c. Gaining an understanding of the variation and different forms of practice within the field of school psychology at the local, national and international level.

- d. Engaging with related professionals in the field of education regarding topics of shared concern in an effort to better differentiate and integrate as working professionals.

2020-21 Theme: Exploring School Psychology through a Disability Studies Lens

What is dis/ability? How is the concept of disability constructed? How has special education served to benefit and harm students with disabilities? How does dis/ability interact with race, gender, and other identities for students in schools? Throughout this year, we will follow the theme of disability studies as it relates to school psychology, with a goal of critically examining disability services in our country and our schools.

Required Readings

Assigned readings will be available through Watzek library or distributed via Moodle or email. See the outline below for specific readings/activities due before each class period.

Course Assignments and Expectations

Course Attendance, Participation, and Professional Standards

Because of the importance of in-class time together in this colloquium, regular and timely class attendance and engaged participation are expected and will be assessed. Missing more than one class period during the term may result in an incomplete or failing grade for the class. Please contact the professors prior to class or due dates regarding any absences from class or problems with assignment deadlines. Any missed class time of significance will require a make-up assignment. It is the student's responsibility to reach out to the instructors regarding the details of the assignment.

Course Assignments and Grading

To receive credit for the course students will complete assignment readings and/or activities prior to each class session, will attend each class session, will participate, and will complete a reflection following each class session. Reflections: The reflections will be submitted to Moodle and are due 1 week after each colloquium meeting. Reflections should be approximately 1 page, single spaced. Reflections should include (1) What have been your major points of learning from the material that you have taken in (readings, videos, etc) along with your in class time? and (2) What will you challenge yourself to do to continue your learning and knowledge?

Student Support Services: If you require academic accommodations please contact the Student Support Services Office in Albany Quadrangle (503-76-7192 or access@lclark.edu). Once you complete the intake process and the Accommodations Agreement, you may Request to Send your Accommodations Letter. Student Support Services staff will then notify faculty of the accommodations for which you are eligible.

Colloquium Outline by Session

Colloquium #1.

Date & Time: Friday September 25, 2020 1:00-5:00

Topic: Introduction to Disability Studies and Schools

Prior to class

Read: Baglieri, Valle, Connor, Gallagher. "Disability Studies in Education: The Need for a Plurality of Perspectives on Disability" Remedial and Special Education, 32:267, 2011.

Watch: Crip camp (documentary available on Netflix)

Explore: Spend some time exploring various social media platforms and read content posted by disability activists, people with disabilities, and content with various disability-focused hashtags. For example,

People to follow: Imani Barbarin, Emily Ladau, Andrew Pulrang

Hashtags: #ableism, #disabilityrights

Reflect: What does it mean to have a disability? How do you conceptualize disability? How are people with disabilities perceived in schools? What do we take for granted in how we educate students with disabilities? What would it look like to reconceptualize disability and special education? (We encourage you to write out your reflection to come prepared to class to discuss but you will not be turning this in).
