COVID-19 RESPONSE STATEMENT

I want to acknowledge that we're operating in unusual circumstances this term. The current COVID-19 pandemic is affecting all of us in various ways, both big and small. Lewis & Clark is working to keep the community informed, and you are not alone. I've adjusted our course plans to accommodate remote teaching and I anticipate we may have to make additional changes as the term progresses and we learn what is working and what is not working for our course community. Please reach out if you have questions or concerns.

CATALOG DESCRIPTION

This course is intended to increase the student's understanding of the issues and dynamics in counseling across social and cultural lines. Students will explore the nature of society and culture and how these impact the counseling process. Students will broaden their scope of diversity awareness and knowledge including systems of power and privilege. Attention will be given to developing an understanding of the intersectionality of gender, class, race, and ethnicity in working with diverse populations in a counseling context.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

1. Addresses major societal concerns such as discrimination, and current approaches to alleviate these concerns
2. Apply cultural & social diversity theories and culturally responsive practices

3. Understand counselor’s role in identity development, empowerment, collaboration, advocacy, and social justice when working with vulnerable and diverse communities
4. Support student’s own cultural and social self-awareness to their view of others, including their cultural assumptions and biases.

This course is designed to prepare counselors in training to work in a diverse society. You will have the opportunity to examine your own cultural identity development, your own relationship with power, privilege, and oppression and how those will influence your counseling practice. It is important to understand that this course is about you and your self-awareness. The course will examine the evolution of the multicultural and social justice movement in the counseling profession, along with major issues and concerns. You will learn about multicultural theory as it relates to counseling. This course will cover the issues and concerns of several specific populations, including diverse racial groups, diversity in gender, ability status, sexual identity, religion, age, and other non-dominant populations.

CAAHEP STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

GENERAL POLICIES

This course adheres to the general policies outlined in the catalog and student handbook of the Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling. This includes full adherence to the following policies:

- Nondiscrimination: go.lclark.edu/gsec-nondiscrimination;
- Standards for professional student conduct and academic integrity: go.lclark.edu/gsec-conduct;
- Sexual misconduct: go.lclark.edu/titleIX

NONDISCRIMINATION

Lewis & Clark College adheres to a nondiscriminatory policy with respect to employment, enrollment, and program. Lewis & Clark does not discriminate on the basis of actual or perceived race, color, sex, religion, age, marital status, national origin, the presence of any physical or sensory disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression and has a firm commitment to promote the letter and spirit of all equal opportunity and civil rights laws, including Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and their implementing regulations.

DISABILITY SERVICES STATEMENT

If you have a disability that may impact your academic performance, you may request accommodations by submitting documentation to the Student Support Services Office in Albany Quadrangle (503-768-7192). After you have submitted documentation and filled out paperwork there for the current semester requesting accommodations, staff in that office will notify me of the accommodations for which you are eligible.

TEACHING METHODS

The class is conducted in several ways, with lectures, projects, the use of media and most importantly, in a self-reflective format. This course is reading & writing intensive. These preferences allow for student contribution, small group work, and promote discourse with one another, which maintains a consistent focus on the process, where personal experiences serve as legitimate sites of knowledge and provide a place for consciousness raising and for students to increase personal reflection and self-awareness. Because of this variety, class participation is a critical component of the course. All students are expected to participate in class discussions (both in the large and small groups), and activities in a meaningful way. Because students may not share the same opinions and/or ideas on different topics in this class, it is important to respect the opinions and ideas of others. In considering respectful communication, students should commit to understanding how institutional racism, structural inequity, prejudice, discrimination, bias, and privilege impact communication, particularly when discussing sensitive and challenging topics. It is expected that some of the class material will evoke strong emotions, and students should work toward self- and other-awareness with regard to the impact of course material related to equity and diversity. Students should strive to stay engaged, understand, and learn when respectfully presented with divergent perspectives or feedback related to insensitive or discriminatory comments, content, or assignments.

CPSY DEPARTMENTAL ATTENDANCE POLICY

Class attendance is expected and required. Any missed class time will be made up by completing extra assignments designed by the instructor. Missing more than ten percent of class time may result in failure to complete the class. This would be 4.5 hours of a 45-hour class (3 credits), 3.0 hours for a 30-hour class (2 credits) or 1.5 hours for a 15-hour class (1 credit.) In case of extreme hardship, and at the discretion of the instructor, a grade of incomplete may be given for an assignment or the entire course. In such cases, the work to be submitted in order to remove the incomplete must be documented appropriately and stated deadlines met. Students are expected to be on time to class and tardiness may be seen as an absence that requires make-up work.

DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Each student should decide for themselves what information to disclose. Students are advised to be prudent when making self-disclosures. The program cannot guarantee confidentiality of student disclosures given the group environment, although personal comments should be considered private and confidential – and remain only in the classroom – unless an exception to confidentiality applies.

TECHNOLOGY USE

In this course, we will be using:

- Zoom video conferencing (link above), for class meetings
- Class Website (link above), where class materials and required readings/videos will be posted
- Moodle (link above), where online discussion board will be used and a platform for assignment submission

Several internet service providers have announced free options for students affected by COVID-19 (e.g., Comcast, Charter).

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS

The counseling profession requires a high level of personal integrity, self-awareness, and personal maturity. Demonstrating professionalism in classroom behavior is essential. As a counselor-in-training, you are expected to be:

- 1) Open to learning
- 2) Flexible
- 3) Positive
- 4) Cooperative
- 5) Willing to use and accept feedback
- 6) Aware of your impact on others
- 7) Able to deal with conflict
- 8) Able to accept personal responsibility
- 9) Able to express feelings effectively and appropriately
- 10) Show initiative and motivation
- 11) Committed to human diversity

Students and faculty are expected to maintain an atmosphere in which controversial issues, germane to the subject matter, can be examined and discussed. In exercising this freedom of expression, faculty and students are expected to exercise appropriate restraint, show respect for the perspectives of others, and demonstrate cultural humility (see definition below*)

Cultural Humility definition: operates with a high level of commitment to self-reflection and self-critique regarding cultural features, usually demonstrated by curiosity, a willingness to learn about others, and a willingness to ask questions, correct errors, and make a sincere effort to learn.

ASSIGNMENTS AND COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1. Punctuality, Internet Etiquette & Participation (90 points)

Students need to be on time to class and from breaks, and to actively participate to honor the importance of making good use of class time. A great deal of our class time will be conducted as a professional dialogue and through activities. We will engage each other. Your participation and positive contribution are valued and important to the success of the class. Participation is a critical component of this course and students are expected to engage in all online activities, which may include but is not limited to, discussion forums, synchronous meetings, and collaborative projects. Attendance during synchronous class meetings is mandatory. If there is an extenuating circumstance and a student is unable to attend a class, they must contact the professor before the class begins. It is also the student's responsibility to arrange for any missing work as a result of the unexpected absence. It is recommended that students identify other members in the class that they can use as a resource for class notes and assignments in the event of an absence.

→ GRADING RUBRIC: Punctuality + Internet Etiquette + Participation (90 points [10 points per day])

PUNCTUALITY, INTERNET ETIQUETTE & PARTICIPATION 10 POINTS TOTAL (per day)

3. Weekly Photo Reflections (72 points)

During this course you will be participating in a 4-part Photovoice experience. This experience will allow you to express your cultural worldview and your perspective of the world through a camera lens. This is a qualitative, action research technique. Both photos & descriptions for each topic are to be submitted as one PDF document (per topic) due BY THE BEGINNING OF EACH CLASS in Moodle Discussion Board.

- A. PART ONE: During this course you will take two and submit two photos per topic (8 topics = 16 photos) based on each week's topic that represents your understanding of that topic and how it relates to you and your life (you are not to interview anyone and, if you photograph anyone, you need to make sure you have their consent). Photos are to not be altered in any way (no filters, photoshop, edits, manipulations, etc.) and no screenshots.
- B. PART TWO: You will write a brief written description (1 paragraph) addressing these questions for each photo (16 photos = 16 descriptions):
- What's going on in the photo? How does it relate to the topic for the week? [you may want to point out a particular activity or relationship in the photo] What challenges are being highlighted here? How are they being addressed successfully or unsuccessfully?
 - Please tell me more about the people and/or objects in the photo. Why did you want to focus on them? What does this photo not show?
 - Tell me more about why you took this picture. How does this relate to or not relate to you and/or your life?
- C. PART THREE: due BY THE BEGINNING OF EACH CLASS in Moodle Discussion Board, you will need to "Start a New Thread" and upload your weekly photos & descriptions (combined in one PDF document).
- D. PART FOUR: By NO LATER THAN 11:59 PM in Moodle on THURSDAY OF EACH WEEK, you are to submit a minimum of 5 meaningful comments. There needs to be at least one comment for each person's weekly photos submission - so make sure that y'all pay attention to what your classmates have commented on so we can make sure that everyone has an opportunity to have their photos acknowledged!
